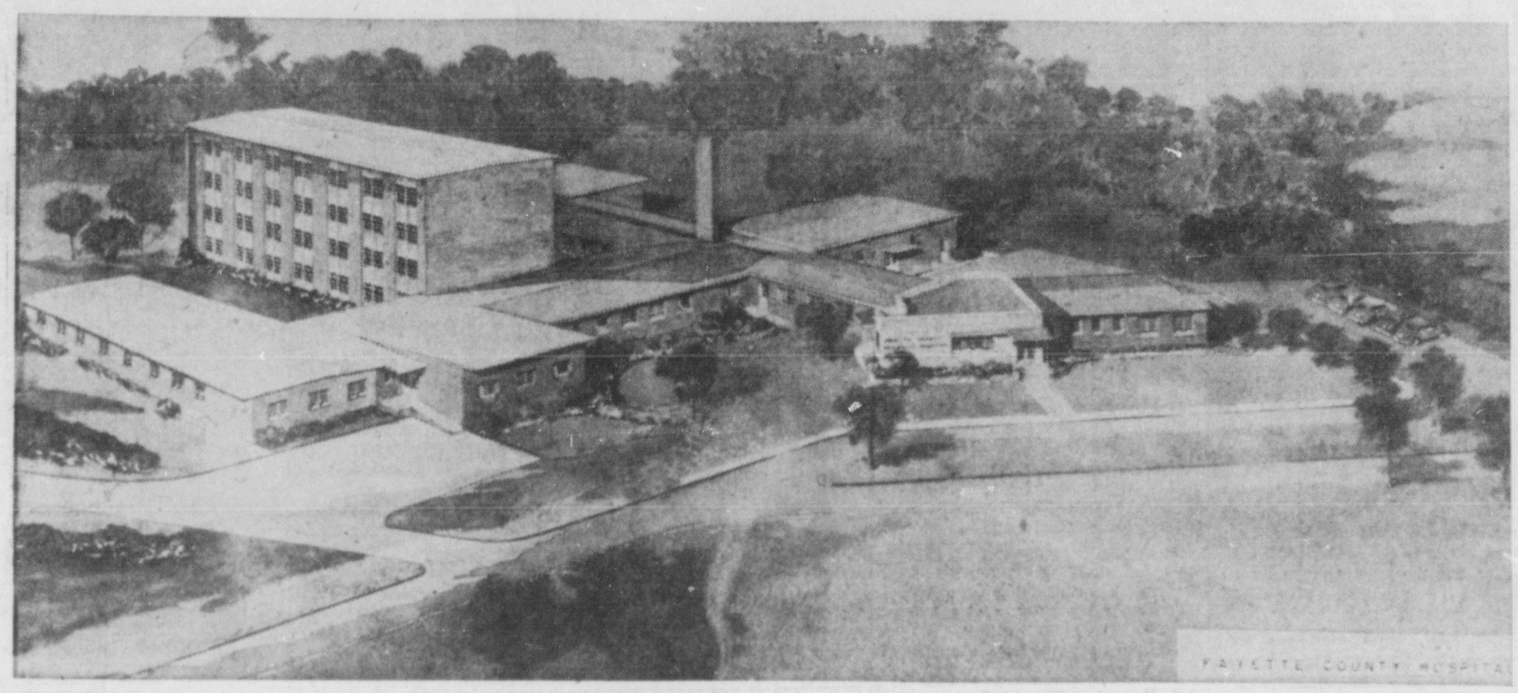
Here's How Proposed Hospital Addition Would Look



The first completed sketch of Memorial Hospital here, showing the proposed addition, has been sent to the hospital board of trustees by the architects, Inscho Brand and Inscho, of Columbus.

The expansion would be financed by a $780,000 bond issue which will be put up to a vote of the people of Fayette County at the November election.

The decision to submit the expansion proposal to the people followed months of study by the board of trustees and an advisory committee, made up of representatives from all sections of the county.

The addition, if the people approve the bond issue to finance it, will provided 60 more patient beds and many more facilities for treatment.

The expansion was designed "to meet present and anticipated future needs," a board statement said.

FIRST FLOOR LEVEL

Re-location and expanded service of the diagnostic laboratory;

Treatment and examination rooms;

Service areas for the departments.

SECOND FLOOR

Re-location and expanded services for surgery (four operating rooms);

Re-location of central sterilizing;

Addition of recovery room — (6 to 8 beds);

THIRD AND FOURTH FLOORS

All devoted to patients rooms consisting of private, two-bed and four-bed wards;

All service and adjunct areas to operate the two 30-bed nursing units.

U. S. Scientists Spot Sputnik's Third Rocket

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) A moonwatch team here spotted the Russian satellite Sputnik's third stage rocket today in the first such sighting in the United States.

Two men atop a New Haven State Teachers College building saw the rocket at 5:23 a.m. as it moved in the sky some 650 miles behind Sputnik itself.

The rocket, larger than Sputnik, was used to give the satellite a final push that sent it spinning around the earth. Observers consider both it and Sputnik as earth satellites. Sputnik still hasn't been seen in this country.

"It looked like a star moving across the heavens," said James Plato, a southern New England Telephone Co. equipment engineer who has been interested in astronomy for 20 years.

The historic sighting occurred at 5:23 a.m.

"It could not have been seen with the naked eye, but appeared to be about as bright as a third magnitude star," Plato said. "It was in our field vision for 30 or 40 seconds. It seemed to be moving slowly."

Plato and other members of the moonwatch team had been trying for the last several nights to spot the elusive Sputnik.

They used a 5.5 power wide field telescope to sight the rocket in the northwest part of the sky at an altitude of approximately 40 degrees from the horizon, or nearly halfway between the horizon and the zenith.

* * *

PLATO CAREFULLY refrained from saying he had seen the rocket until his observation was confirmed by the Smithsonian Astrophysical Laboratory at Cambridge, Mass., some hours later.

As Plato saw the rocket in the early morning skies, he pointed it out to Dr. Robert U. Brown, head of the New Haven moonwatch team and professor of science at the college.

There has been difference of opinion among scientists whether the satellite is maintaining its rate of speed and its altitude.

But broadcasts from Moscow said the man-made moon will stay aloft for a long time.

Yankees	000 000 000	0	7 3

Working behind the seven - hit pitching of Lew Burdette, the Braves chalked four runs in the third inning and added a home run in the eighth.

Four big runs came across the plate in the third inning as the Braves, underdogs this morning in the eyes of professional oddsmakers, collected four hits and were aided by a Yankee error.

FIRST INNING

Yankees: Bauer doubled. Slaughter bunted and Bauer was trapped between second and third. In the ensuing rundown, Bauer scrambled back to second safely but Slaughter was tagged out. Mantle grounded out. Berra was given an intentional pass. McDougald popped out. No runs, one hit, no errors, two left.

SECOND INNING

THIRD INNING

Braves: Burdette fouled out. Hazle singled. Logan grounded to Kubek whose throw to second pulled Coleman off the bag and Hazle was safe. Mathews doubled, scoring Hazle and Logan. Shantz replaced Larsen. Aaron singled, scoring Mathews. Covington singled. Torre forced Covington, but Aaron scored. Mantilla flied out. Four runs, four hits, one error, one left.

Yankees: Lumpe, batting for Shantz, struck out. Bauer flied out. Slaughter bounced out. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

FOURTH INNING

Braves: Ditmar went to the mound for the Yanks. Crandall flied out. Burdette struck out. Hazle singled. McDougald made a gloved hand stop of Logan's smash but Hazle was safe at second on his low throw to Coleman. Mathews lined out. No runs, one hit, one error, two left.

FIFTH INNING

Yankees: Kubek flied out. Coleman singled. Collins forced Coleman at second. Skowron, batting for Ditmar, forced Collins. No runs, one hit, no errors, one left.

SIXTH INNING

Braves: Sturdivant went to the mound and Skowron took over at first base. Crandall singled. Burdette sacrificed. Crandall beat Berra's throw to Kubek at third but over-slid the bag and was tagged out. Hazle flied out. No runs, one hit, no errors, none left.

SEVENTH INNING

Yankees: Kubek singled. Coleman grounded out. Howard, batting for Sturdivant, struck out. No runs, one hit, no errors, one left.

EIGHTH INNING

NINTH INNING

U. S. Satellite Program Eyed

Need of Revision Talked by Knowland

COLUMBUS (AP)—A reorganization of the U. S. satellite program may be needed, says Senate Minority Leader William S. Knowland, to make sure the Soviet Union never again takes the lead in the world's missile race.

Russia's success in launching the world's first earth satellite clearly demonstrates she is ahead of America in the missiles contest, he said here Wednesday.

A candidate for the Republican gubernatorial nomination in California, Knowland said upon his arrival that he fully expects to serve his entire term as governor if elected.

Asked about his reaction to a possible GOP nomination for Pres-

Fayette County had the largest delegation except Franklin of any of the 30 or more Central Ohio counties attending the Republican $50 per-plate meeting in Columbus Wednesday night. Sen. Knowland of California was the chief speaker.

There were 26 Fayette County Republicans present. Thirty reservations had been made by Belford Carpenter who represents this county on the campaign finance committee for the Republican state organization.

Lady Looie Tells WACs in Yokohama To Use Falsies, Girdles If Necessary

YOKOHAMA, Japan (AP) — The WAC detachment in Yokohama has been told to shape up by Saturday, with an assist from falsies and girdles if necessary.

The word came from the outfit's new and shapely young commander. Some of the girls think Lt. Jeane Wolcott of Kent, Ohio, went too far. One subordinate said she might write her congressman.

"I didn't exactly order them," the pretty lieutenant said today. "I just told them, and next Saturday I'll see what's been done."

The advice, a "girl - to - girl talk," came after Lt. Wolcott's first inspection Saturday of her 96-woman detachment. The female outfit is on duty at the Army Transportation Terminal and Regional Camp in Yokohama.

Only one of the 86 women standing inspection "met specifications perfectly."

Most of the faults were minor. Some "did not fill their WAC uniforms properly."

"Some of the young ladies who are not too gifted in some ways were told they could make improvements. For a few who were beginning to bulge a bit, I suggested girdles. For a few others I suggested padding for the shoulder and elsewhere.

"When a WAC isn't well endowed," the well-formed lieutenant explained, "the uniform has a tendency to dip in front of the shoulders. Padding at the shoulders will take the dip out. So will falsies."

Lt. Wolcott admitted that neither falsies nor girdles are government issue. The girls must buy their own.

"For this reason I couldn't order them to improve their appearance, and there will be no disciplinary action against any who refuse to do so," she assured.

The distaff CO hastened to add that she thinks her WACs "are among the best and I want them to be the best looking in the world."

"Everything I told them was in good faith because I want them to look good," she declared. "After all, people look twice at them because they're women and because they're WACs."

Come Saturday, a male officer from headquarters will inspect the feminine detachment.

"But he certainly will make no comment on padding or girdles," said Lt. Wolcott.

3 U. S. Flires, Briton Die as Jet Explodes

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—A burning B47 Stratojet bomber exploded Wednesday, killing three U. S. fliers and a Royal Air Force officer.

Col. Michael N. W. McCoy, 52, of Pomona, Calif., dean of B47 combat wing commanders, was believed to have been piloting the six-engine aircraft.

He died with others in the plane, Group Capt. John Woodroffe of the RAF, Lt. Col. Charles Joyce, 38, of Winchester Mass., and Maj. Vernon D. Stuff, 39, of Dayton.

November Draft Call Set at 448

COLUMBUS (AP)—The November Selective Service call in Ohio will be for 448 inductees, an increase of 16 above the October total.

This was announced today by the state Selective Service Headquarters which pointed out the call for November 1956 was 1,033.

Youngest registrant who may be inducted in November must be at least 22 years old by Nov. 1 unless he is a volunteer or a delinquent. The call by counties:

U. S. To Relax Fingerprint Law

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration today ordered an end to fingerprinting for virtually all visitors to the U. S. A few exceptions were made.

The new rules are expected to become effective next weekend.

Under them, visitors could come here from the Soviet Union, which has complained for years against the fingerprinting requirement, without being fingerprinted.

The State Department announced the action which was taken officially by Secretary of State Dulles and Atty. Gen. Brownell who used authority given by Congress last Sept. 11.

Little Rock School Scene Remains Quiet

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Conditions at Little Rock's Central High School edged back toward normal today although federal troops remained to enforce integration. There was no sign of a break in the state-federal deadlock which keeps them on duty.

In advance of the opening of classes today, school authorities said 46 out of 74 students who have been under suspension have been reinstated or will be shortly. Most of the suspensions were for three days; others were for indefinite terms. Many of those barred from classes had taken part in a walkout or in other disturbances.

In addition, attendance at Central High Wednesday totaled 1,773, with 190 absent. The absentees included those under suspension. School officials have said normal absenteeism runs about 5 per cent which would amount to around 100 pupils out of Central High's enrollment of almost 2,000.

At the peak of the tension growing out of racial integration ordered at the school by the federal courts, 750 were absent.

Federal troops were ordered in more than two weeks ago after riots by adult whites outside the school. President Eisenhower said the troops were needed to assure the carrying out of court orders for integration.

'Moral Insanity' Is Laid to Sailor

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A Navy psychiatrist says Jimmie L. Henderson, Negro sailor on trial for murder, suffers from "moral insaniy" but is entirely capable of premeditated killing.

Lt. Cmdr. Kenneth P. Jones testified Wednesday before a court martial trying Henderson on a charge of slaying Ens. Arthur Morris of Stow, Ohio.

Cmdr. Jones said Henderson's normal insanity stems from a character disorder. He said Henderson's ability to determine right from wrong is impaired, but not significantly. He reported Henderson has been sullen, hostile and destructive in the brig but he can control those emotions.

Radio Fans Alarmed By Sputnik, Welles

KELOWNA, B. C. (AP)—Orson Welles and the Russian satellite, Sputnik, proved too much for some radio listeners Wednesday.

Then, without an introduction, the station put on a recording of Welles' "War of the Worlds" broadcast in 1938.

Twenty years ago thousands of radio listeners were frightened by the make-believe report that men from Mars had invaded the earth.

Wednesday night 60 phone calls came in within a few minutes from anxious folk who thought Sputnik had landed hostile Russians in North America.

What Is Sputnik's Scientific Value?

NEW YORK (AP)—What is the true scientific value of a man-made, man-controlled earth satellite?

Sputnik spins merrily on today, its stuttering beeps apparently transmitting scientific data to its earthbound makers. But what information is Sputnik transmitting?

The Soviets have said it is counting meteor hits and collecting data on the South Magnetic Pole. One Russian scientist has hinted it also is measuring temperatures in space.

The 6 to 10 planned by the United States will study meteors, magnetism, temperature as well as cosmic and sun rays, air density, space pressure, even the shape and composition of the earth.

* * *

THESE THINGS have been studied before but never outside the atmosphere, the dense layer of air that envelops the earth and obscures the secrets of space.

Data gathered by the prying satellites probably will not have immediate practical value. But it will provide a foundation on which future practical results may be built.

A half century ago, Albert Einstein formulated a basic theory that matter can be converted into energy. It was 40 years before practical atomic energy grew up on that platform.

Already, scientists can guess at some of the practical results which may evolve if the satellite reports can answer questions like these:

No U. S.-Soviet Agreement Seen Soon on Space Control

WASHINGTON (AP) — Top U. S. officials see no present possibility of practical agreements between Russia and the West on major world issues such as international control of space satellites.

They feel that Soviet Communist boss Nikita Khrushchev is not seriously interested in reaching any such agreement at this time.

This estimate of Khrushchev maneuvers in foreign affairs is based primarily on an assessment of Secretary of States Dulles' talk here last Saturday with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko.

It also is described as taking into account the positive purposes of Khrushchev's apparently well-planned diplomatic offensive in connection with the launching of the earth satellite.

In the American view he is seeking simultaneously to impress the world with Russia's scientific progress and military power, and to promote the familiar propaganda line that the Soviet Union is actively seeking peaceful settlement with its power rival, the United States.

THE DULLES-Gromyko conversation impressed Dulles and other top officials chiefly by demonstrating what they now term the "inflexibility" of Soviet policy on the disputed problems talked about. These were mainly the Middle East, disarmament and the European situation.

Gromyko, according to authoritative information, gave no intimation of any Kremlin willingness to change position on any of these subjects.

President Eisenhower made clear at a news conference Wednesday that the United States has no intention of joining with Russia in any "attempt to dictate to the world."

Community Chest Contribution Totals $2,854 During 3 Days

The Fayette County Community Chest collected $2,854.25 — or 12 per cent of its quota — during the first three days of campaigning this week, Perse Harlow, the executive secretary, announced Thursday.

But Harlow said that this early total was "not particularly exciting," since it represented about a dozen contributions from large industries and businesses.

"The success or failure of the drive as a whole will depend, not on the support of these, but that of the 3,000 individuals, whose contributions we have still to receive."

The house-to-house solicitation, aimed at reaching everyone in Washington C. H. and Fayette County, will not get underway in earnest until after the Community Chest parade, which is expected to draw throngs into downtown Washington C. H. Oct. 14. Nine bands, 20 floats, 350 youngsters and Hopalong Cassidy will be in the line of march.

"NATURALLY, we are pleased with these contributions, but they are no indication of what will happen in the campaign as a whole," Harlow commented in regard to the early returns.

"The important thing to us now," Harlow said, "is whether we can get the necessary 15 per cent increase over last year in all contributions in order to meet this year's $23,500 goal."

Goal last year was the same, but only $20,000 was subscribed, Harlow recalled.

Solicitation for the 11 local organizations who receive Chest support began Monday in the downtown area,when more than 350 volunteer workers began contacting local industries, businesses and professional men, while employe solicitation started in 20 stores, industries and civic groups.

House-to-house coverage of the city, villages and rural area will begin next Monday.

Participating agencies are: Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, Community Activity Fund, 4-H Club Camp, Girl Scouts, Public Park, Red Cross and Blood Bank, Retarded Children Council, Salvation Army, USO and YWCA (Y-Teen Clubs).

U. S. Scientists Spot Sputnik's Third Rocket

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) A moonwatch team here spotted the Russian satellite Sputnik's third stage rocket today in the first such sighting in the United States.

Two men atop a New Haven State Teachers College building saw the rocket at 5:23 a.m. as it moved in the sky some 650 miles behind Sputnik itself.

The rocket, larger than Sputnik, was used to give the satellite a final push that sent it spinning around the earth. Observers consider both it and Sputnik as earth satellites. Sputnik still hasn't been seen in this country.

"It looked like a star moving across the heavens," said James Plato, a southern New England Telephone Co. equipment engineer who has been interested in astronomy for 20 years.

The historic sighting occurred at 5:23 a.m.

"It could not have been seen with the naked eye, but appeared to be about as bright as a third magnitude star," Plato said. "It was in our field vision for 30 or 40 seconds. It seemed to be moving slowly."

Plato and other members of the moonwatch team had been trying for the last several nights to spot the elusive Sputnik.

They used a 5.5 power wide field telescope to sight the rocket in the northwest part of the sky at an altitude of approximately 40 degrees from the horizon, or nearly halfway between the horizon and the zenith.

* * *

PLATO CAREFULLY refrained from saying he had seen the rocket until his observation was confirmed by the Smithsonian Astrophysical Laboratory at Cambridge, Mass., some hours later.

As Plato saw the rocket in the early morning skies, he pointed it out to Dr. Robert U. Brown, head of the New Haven moonwatch team and professor of science at the college.

There has been difference of opinion among scientists whether the satellite is maintaining its rate of speed and its altitude.

But broadcasts from Moscow said the man-made moon will stay aloft for a long time.

What Is Sputnik's Scientific Value?

NEW YORK (AP)—What is the true scientific value of a man-made, man-controlled earth satellite?

Sputnik spins merrily on today, its stuttering beeps apparently transmitting scientific data to its earthbound makers. But what information is Sputnik transmitting?

The Soviets have said it is counting meteor hits and collecting data on the South Magnetic Pole. One Russian scientist has hinted it also is measuring temperatures in space.

The 6 to 10 planned by the United States will study meteors, magnetism, temperature as well as cosmic and sun rays, air density, space pressure, even the shape and composition of the earth.

* * *

THESE THINGS have been studied before but never outside the atmosphere, the dense layer of air that envelops the earth and obscures the secrets of space.

Data gathered by the prying satellites probably will not have immediate practical value. But it will provide a foundation on which future practical results may be built.

A half century ago, Albert Einstein formulated a basic theory that matter can be converted into energy. It was 40 years before practical atomic energy grew up on that platform.

Already, scientists can guess at some of the practical results which may evolve if the satellite reports can answer questions like these:

Yankees	000 000 000	0	7	3

Working behind the seven - hit pitching of Lew Burdette, the Braves chalked four runs in the third inning and added a home run in the eighth.

Four big runs came across the plate in the third inning as the Braves, underdogs this morning in the eyes of professional oddsmakers, collected four hits and were aided by a Yankee error.

FIRST INNING

Yankees: Bauer doubled. Slaughter bunted and Bauer was trapped between second and third. In the ensuing rundown, Bauer scrambled back to second safely but Slaughter was tagged out. Mantle grounded out. Berra was given an intentional pass. McDougald popped out. No runs, one hit, no errors, two left.

SECOND INNING

THIRD INNING

Braves: Burdette fouled out. Hazle singled. Logan grounded to Kubek whose throw to second pulled Coleman off the bag and Hazle was safe. Mathews doubled, scoring Hazle and Logan. Shantz replaced Larsen. Aaron singled, scoring Mathews. Covington singled. Torre forced Covington, but Aaron scored. Mantilla flied out. Four runs, four hits, one error, one left.

Yankees: Lumpe, batting for Shantz, struck out. Bauer flied out. Slaughter bounced out. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

FOURTH INNING

Braves: Ditmar went to the mound for the Yanks. Crandall flied out. Burdette struck out. Hazle singled. McDougaid made a gloved hand stop of Logan's smash but Hazle was safe at second on his low throw to Coleman. Mathews lined out. No runs, one hit, one error, two left.

FIFTH INNING

Yankees: Kubek flied out. Coleman singled. Collins forced Coleman at second. Skowron, batting for Ditmar, forced Collins. No runs, one hit, no errors, one left.

SIXTH INNING

Braves: Sturdivant went to the mound and Skowron took over at first base. Crandall singled. Burdette sacrificed. Crandall beat Berra's throw to Kubek at third but over-slid the bag and was tagged out. Hazle flied out. No runs, one hit, no errors, none left.

SEVENTH INNING

Yankees: Kubek singled. Coleman grounded out. Howard, batting for Sturdivant, struck out. No runs, one hit, no errors, one left.

EIGHTH INNING

U. S. Satellite Program Eyed

Need of Revision Talked by Knowland

COLUMBUS (AP)—A reorganization of the U. S. satellite program may be needed, says Senate Minority Leader William S. Knowland, to make sure the Soviet Union never again takes the lead in the world's missile race.

Russia's success in launching the world's first earth satellite clearly demonstrates she is ahead of America in the missiles contest, he said here Wednesday.

A candidate for the Republican gubernatorial nomination in California, Knowland said upon his arrival that he fully expects to serve his entire term as governor if elected.

Asked about his reaction to a possible GOP nomination for Pres-

Fayette County had the largest delegation except Franklin of any of the 30 or more Central Ohio counties attending the Republican $50 per-plate meeting in Columbus Wednesday night. Sen. Knowland of California was the chief speaker.

There were 26 Fayette County Republicans present. Thirty reservations had been made by Belford Carpenter who represents this county on the campaign finance committee for the Republican state organization.

No U. S.-Soviet Agreement Seen Soon on Space Control

WASHINGTON (AP) — Top U. S. officials see no present possibility of practical agreements between Russia and the West on major world issues such as international control of space satellites.

They feel that Soviet Communist boss Nikita Khrushchev is not seriously interested in reaching any such agreement at this time.

This estimate of Khrushchev maneuvers in foreign affairs is based primarily on an assessment of Secretary of States Dulles' talk here last Saturday with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko.

It also is described as taking into account the positive purposes of Khrushchev's apparently well-planned diplomatic offensive in connection with the launching of the earth satellite.

In the American view he is seeking simultaneously to impress the world with Russia's scientific progress and military power, and to promote the familiar propaganda line that the Soviet Union is actively seeking peaceful settlement with its power rival, the United States.

THE DULLES-Gromyko conversation impressed Dulles and other top officials chiefly by demonstrating what they now term the "inflexibility" of Soviet policy on the disputed problems talked about. These were mainly the Middle East, disarmament and the European situation.

Gromyko, according to authoritative information, gave no intimation of any Kremlin willingness to change position on any of these subjects.

President Eisenhower made clear at a news conference Wednesday that the United States has no intention of joining with Russia in any "attempt to dictate to the world."

Ike Apologizes For Snub of African Leader

Ghana Minister Guest For Breakfast in White House Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—The finance minister of the Negro republic of Ghana had breakfast with President Eisenhower today and received a personal apology from the chief executive for a Delaware restaurant's refusal to serve him because of his color.

It "makes up for what happened," the minister, K. E. Gbedemah, said as he left the White House. He added that the President was "a little worried" over the snub in Dover, Del., last Monday evening.

Gbedemah quoted Eisenhower as saying there are "little things like that all over the place and you don't know where they're going to blow up or when."

Vice President Nixon also was a guest at the one-hour breakfast session. One reason was that Nixon was entertained at lunch at Gbedemah's home in Ghana last March on the occasion of the celebration of the former British Gold Coast colony's independence.

The minister has been in this country since Sept. 20 attending World Bank conferences.

• • •

FOLLOWING breakfast, Eisenhower showed Gbedemah the lower floors of the executive mansion. He then walked to the front portico to pose with his guest.

Gbedemah said the President asked how the Dover incident happened and he told him he was not allowed to drink orange juice in the restaurant. The drink was delivered wrapped, for consumption outside.

Gbedemah laughed when reporters asked if he had been served orange juice at the White House. He said that was not on the menu today and it might have been left off on purpose.

At Accra, Ghana the Foreign Ministry announced today it has accepted a U.S. government apology for the incident.

U. S. State Department officials Wednesday apologized formally to the local Embassy of the West African nation.

Department officials also telephoned Howard Johnson headquarters in Quincy, Mass., expressing the hope that such occurrences would not happen again.

A Howard Johnson spokesman said the company believes strongly in serving anyone. He added that the company "employs many fine colored people. We have for 25 years. We don't inquire about creed or color."

If Cook, holder of the restaurant's franchise in Dover, had any comment, it was not reported.

Truckers Win Suit Against Railroads

The federal jurist dismissed a counter suit brought by a group of 21 Eastern railroads against trucking firms. Judge Clary declined to award the truckers the $250 million they had sought from the railroads. Instead the jurist granted each of 37 trucking firms 18 cents in nominal damages.

The truckers had contended that the railroads sought to drive them out of business.

Deaths, Funerals

Mrs. George L. Gossard

Mrs. Fay S. Gossard, 72, died at 11 a. m. Thursday at her home, 608 S. Main St., following a week of serious illness. She had been in failing health, however, for the last 18 months.

A native of Dayton, she spent her early life in Springfield and in 1924, she and her husband, George L. Gossard, moved to Washington C. H.

She was a member of the First Presbyterian Church and active in its affairs when her health permitted.

In addition to her husband, she is survived by a son, Stuart Gossard, who made his home with his parents.

Services will be held at 3:30 p. m. Saturday in the Gerstner Funeral Home and burial will be in the Washington C. H. Cemetery.

Milton S. Warner

Milton S. Warner, 78, of Hoppes Rd., died unexpectedly of a heart attack about 7 a. m. Thursday in his farm home. He had appeared in his usual good health when he arose earlier in the day.

Born in Pickaway County, he spent most of his life in the Atlanta community, where he was a farmer. He came to his farm here five years ago after his retirement.

He was a member of the Sugar Creek Baptist Church on Route 35, west of Washington C. H.

Surviving are his wife, Lena; a daughter, Mrs. Marguerite Sisk of San Diego, Calif.; a granddaughter and two great-grandsons; and two brothers, Hoadley of Millersport and Floyd of Canal Winchester.

Services will be held at 2 p. m. Saturday in the Kirkpatrick Funeral Home here by the Rev. W. S. Alexander, retired minister living here. Burial will be in New Holland cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home after 3 p. m. Friday.

Mrs. James Jacobs

JEFFERSONVILLE— Mrs. James Jacobs, 72, widow of James Jacobs, who died in 1955, died in the Grim Rest Home in Bloomingburg at 11 p. m. Wednesday.

A native of Madison County, she had spent most of her life in Fayette County. She had made her home with her son, Walter Jacobs, on Route 729 near Jeffersonville for several years, until about a year ago when she went to the rest home.

Besides her son, she is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Annie Whited of Ft. Wayne, Ind., seven grandchildren and three great-grandchildren. She also leaves a brother, Elmer Welsh, Bloomingburg.

Services will be conducted at 2 p. m. Saturday in the Alvin G. Little Funeral Home in Jeffersonville by the Rev. C. R. Williamson, pastor of the Methodist Church.

Burial will be in Fairview Cemetery.

Infant Miller

Committal services for Deborah Ann Miller, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gary E. Miller of Waterloo, were to be held at 3:30 p. m. Thursday in Washington C. H. Cemetery under the direction of the Parrett Funeral Home.

The infant died at 4:30 a. m. Thursday in Memorial Hospital here. Surviving, besides the parents, are the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Neal of Columbus, the paternal grandmother, Mrs. Earl Mercer of Waterloo, and the paternal grandfather, Harry Miller of near Pomeroy.

The Rev. C. H. Detty was to officiate.

Charles M. Patton

GREENFIELD — Charles M. Patton, 75, died at 10:20 p. m. Wednesday in the home of his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Joy E. Jinks, on the Good Hope-Greenfield Rd., four hours after he had suffered a heart attack at his own home, only a short distance away on the same road.

His parents came to Fayette County from Virginia and settled in the New Martinsburg community, but Mr. Patton had spent his entire life in the community where he died.

He is survived by his wife, Louella Taylor Patton; his daughter, Mrs. Jinks; a son, Charles William Jinks of the Good Hope community, and two grandchildren. He also leaves a sister, Mrs. Charles Beeker of Gibsonburg.

Services will be held at the Struever Funeral Home here at 2 p. m. Saturday by the Rev. C. R. Lyle of Good Hope. Burial will be in the White Oak Cemetery near Buena Vista.

Friends may call at the funeral home after 10 a. m. Friday.

Piccard Says Satellite Could Carry A-Arms

Safety Is Topic At Grange Meet

Forest Shade Grange Plans Degree Work

Lectures and tips on safety in the home, on the farm, and while hunting, were given at a meeting of the Forest Shade Grange in Grange Hall .

"Fire Safety for Farms" was the supervised the program. Miss Ritter gave a talk entitled "Safety Hints and Fire Prevention Suggestions."

Grange Master Floyd Hoppes presided over the meeting.

• • •

MEMBERS agreed to serve their traditional election day dinner at Grange Hall, and to donate the proceeds to the New Martinsburg WSCS. Mrs. Willis Handley, Mrs. Russell Grice and Mrs. Eldon Bethards were named to a planning committee.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Caplinger will be host and hostess at the next meeting, Nov. 12, at which time third and fourth degree work will be given.

A candy contest will be held at the Pomona Gange mecting Thursday night, it was announced.

A sum of $10 was contributed to the Community Chest.

Proposed for membership were Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Glover, Jack Thompson, Mrs. June Salyer and her daughter and son, Dianna and Alton.

U. S. Scientists

tory at Ottawa said Wednesday night the Russian moonlet, launched last Friday, had been photographed over Alberta. Earlier, it was reported that a photograph had been taken in New Zealand.

Dr. Fred Whipple, director of the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory at Cambridge, Mass., said no new information had been received to define more closely the satellite's orbit.

The signals emitted by the sphere were reported by listening posts in various places to have changed from the original beep-beep sound.

The U. S. Naval Research Laboratory here said it was receiving a hum interspersed with an occasional beep. Radio operators in Mazatlan, Mexico, told of hearing a signal that sounded like "psst, psst, psst."

A spokesman at the Naval Research Laboratory said the difference in signals might be explained by a variation in receiving equipment or perhaps the location of the sets in relation to the path of the satellite.

Two Moscow radio broadcasts, both for home listeners, gave conflicting views on the moonlet's speed. One said it was speeding up. The other said it was slowing down. There was no attempt to explain this conflict.

Band To Honor Parents Friday

Trip to the Moon To Feature Show

"POP" and "MOM" will be the stars of the Washington C. H. High School band show at WHS Lions meet Hillsboro's Indians in a SCO League football game at Gardner Park here Friday.

And, in honor of the esteemed couple, the band will take them on a trip to the moon, similar to the one the band members took from the Greenfield football field last Friday.

Actually, band members are sponsoring the extra trip for two reasons: partly in recognition of WHS Parents' Night and partly to remind the Russians that the Lion bandsmen beat the Red Star scientists into outer space by several days.

• • •

THE WHOLE evening will honor the parents of the football players the parents of the bandsmen and parents everywhere.

After "The Star Spangled Banner" is played by the combined WHS and Hillsboro bands, the WHS musicians will take the field and spell out "POP" and "MOM" in formation, recognizing parents' night.

At halftime, they will form a giant "H" in honor of Hillsboro High School, and then go into the trip to the moon routine. Songs featured include "Oh Mr. Moon," "A White Sport Coat," "Cuddle Up a Little Closer," "Auld Lang Syne," "Nearer My God to Thee," and "All Shook Up."

'Fireball' Sighted In Colorado Sky

DENVER (AP) — The Aeronautics Administration said a "huge fireball" passed over the Denver area shortly after 4 a.m. today.

A CAA spokesman said "it undoubtedly was a meteor." It disappeared in the southwestern sky.

The Colorado highway patrol and the U. S. Weather Bureau said they received reports from several Denver residents who observed the bright object.

The CAA said no planes are reported missing in the region. It said it had an unconfirmed report that the meteor, or part of it, had landed near Myton, Utah.

Several reports from pilots who sighted the fireball were monitored by the CAA's air route traffic center in Salt Lake City.

Pennsy Railroad To Lay Off 4000

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Pennsylvania Railroad plans to lay off about 4,000 employes as part of an economy program.

Vice President J. P. Newell said Wednesday all departments would be affected. He added that the layoffs would not be concentrated at any one place.

Newell said the economy program resulted from the failure of an expected business increase to materialize, as well as low volume of traffic and increasing wage costs.

College Enrollment Totals To Top '56 Peak by 5 Pct.

CINCINNATI (AP)—Enrollment of full-time college students this fall is up about 5 per cent over last year's all-time peak, it was reported today by Dr. Raymond Walters, president emeritus of the University of Cincinnati.

Dr. Walters, who annually surveys and analyzes enrollments in 600 colleges and universities for the education journal, School and Society, based his estimate on preliminary reports from throughout the nation. His final report is due in December.

Dr. Walters said the increase is national in scope, not regional, and shows "the widespread desire for higher education."

Analyzing immediate returns which have come to him of approximate enrollments, he made these points:

1. As to full-time attendance, 86 per cent of the approved institutions recorded thus far have more or as many students this fall as last year, with 65 per cent having more.

2. As to freshman attendance, 4 per cent have more or as many first-year students, with about 50 per cent having more.

3. Of state and municipal universities reporting thus far, about 70 per cent have increased numbers of full-time students and fewer than 10 per cent (chiefly in freshmen) have decreases.

4. In view of limited facilities as to residence halls, classroom buildings, and faculty personnel, a group of private universities and some liberal arts colleges are restricting admissions.

5. A similar stabilization seems to be in process at about a third of the independent engineering schools and institutes thus far reporting. However, the total enrollment in technological courses in all institutions is definitely higher than in the fall of 1956.

6. The most consistent increases are at teachers colleges, where 75 per cent report gains, 17 per cent report no change, and only a few report losses.

7. Enrollment advances are general at urban universities and colleges in larger cities where, since students can live at home, the problem of financial expense is less formidable.

Wives Deplore 'Continuity' Of Housework

Or, as one of them put it, "It's always there. It's so daily."

This was one of the important points of agreement reached among 100 women from 45 states meeting today in a conference called Congress on Better Living.

The meeting is a followup to a women's convention on housing design sponsored last year by the Home Finance Agency.

Today, the delegates are discussing the kind of house they live in and the style they would prefer to have — particularly with respect to a private retreat in the home for father.

Last year, the ladies suggested letting father use a sort of "mud room," where the youngsters come in and track their feet after play, as his spot for solitude.

This conference promoted Dad to a sort of master bedroom where he could read or do work brought home from the office.

Multi-Nation Talks On Space Are Urged

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The United States declared today it is ready to begin multi-nation talks immediately on steps to harness space missiles for peace.

The statement was made by Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge as the U. N.'s 82 - nation Political Committee plunged into a detailed debate on disarmament.

Lodge asserted the United States was willing to separate the discussion of space missiles from the general disarmament debate and proceed with it independently.

Korean Student Loses Cincy Bid

CINCINNATI (AP) — A Korean student at the University of Cincinnati has lost his bid to have the "top and most powerful organization in the city" (city council) help him get a taxi driver's license.

Reason: Jae-Kee Kim is already working parttime for the city on UC's co-op program.

The Korean had asked council to waive a law which requires would-be chauffeurs to be U. S. citizens.

He said he wanted a job to help foot his bills at UC and said: "I shall be on the tiptoe of expectation to hear from you."

But Council learned Wednesday that because of the student's co-op job, he cannot get another job without permission first from the university and then from the federal government.

Ike Apologizes For Snub of African Leader

Ghana Minister Guest For Breakfast in White House Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—The finance minister of the Negro republic of Ghana had breakfast with President Eisenhower today and received a personal apology from the chief executive for a Delaware restaurant's refusal to serve him because of his color.

It "makes up for what happened," the minister, K. E. Gbedemah, said as he left the White House. He added that the President was "a little worried" over the snub in Dover, Del., last Monday evening.

Gbedemah quoted Eisenhower as saying there are "little things like that all over the place and you don't know where they're going to blow up or when."

Vice President Nixon also was a guest at the one-hour breakfast session. One reason was that Nixon was entertained at lunch at Gbedemah's home in Ghana last March on the occasion of the celebration of the former British Gold Coast colony's independence.

The minister has been in this country since Sept. 20 attending World Bank conferences.

* * *

FOLLOWING breakfast, Eisenhower showed Gbedemah the lower floors of the executive mansion. He then walked to the front portico to pose with his guest.

Gbedemah said the President asked how the Dover incident happened and he told him he was not allowed to drink orange juice in the restaurant. The drink was delivered wrapped, for consumption outside.

Gbedemah laughed when reporters asked if he had been served orange juice at the White House. He said that was not on the menu today and it might have been left off on purpose.

At Accra, Ghana the Foreign Ministry announced today it has accepted a U.S. government apology for the incident.

U. S. State Department officials Wednesday apologized formally to the local Embassy of the West African nation.

Department officials also telephoned Howard Johnson headquarters in Quincy, Mass., expressing the hope that such occurrences would not happen again.

A Howard Johnson spokesman said the company believes strongly in serving anyone. He added that the company "employs many fine colored people. We have for 25 years. We don't inquire about creed or color."

If Cook, holder of the restaurant's franchise in Dover, had any comment, it was not reported.

Truckers Win Suit Against Railroads

The federal jurist dismissed a counter suit brought by a group of 31 Eastern railroads against trucking firms. Judge Clary declined to award the truckers the $250 million they had sought from the railroads. Instead the jurist granted each of 37 trucking firms 18 cents in nominal damages.

The truckers had contended that the railroads sought to drive them out of business.

Mrs. George L. Gossard

Mrs. Fay S. Gossard, 72, died at 11 a. m. Thursday at her home, 608 S. Main St., following a week of serious illness. She had been in failing health, however, for the last 18 months.

A native of Dayton, she spent her early life in Springfield and in 1924, she and her husband, George L. Gossard, moved to Washington C. H.

She was a member of the First Presbyterian Church and active in its affairs when her health permitted.

In addition to her husband, she is survived by a son, Stuart Gossard, who made his home with his parents.

Services will be held at 3:30 p. m. Saturday in the Gerstner Funeral Home and burial will be in the Washington C. H. Cemetery.

Milton S. Warner

Milton S. Warner, 78, of Hoppes Rd., died unexpectedly of a heart attack about 7 a. m. Thursday in his farm home. He had appeared in his usual good health when he arose earlier in the day.

Born in Pickaway County, he spent most of his life in the Atlanta community, where he was a farmer. He came to his farm here five years ago after his retirement.

He was a member of the Sugar Creek Baptist Church on Route 35, west of Washington C. H.

Surviving are his wife, Lena; a daughter, Mrs. Marguerite Sisk of San Diego, Calif.; a granddaughter and two great-grandsons; and two brothers, Hoadley of Millersport and Floyd of Canal Winchester.

Services will be held at 2 p. m. Saturday in the Kirkpatrick Funeral Home here by the Rev. W. S. Alexander, retired minister living here. Burial will be in New Holland cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home after 3 p. m. Friday.

Mrs. James Jacobs

JEFFERSONVILLE— Mrs. James Jacobs, 72, widow of James Jacobs, who died in 1955, died in the Grim Rest Home in Bloomingburg at 11 p. m. Wednesday.

A native of Madison County, she had spent most of her life in Fayette County. She had made her home with her son, Walter Jacobs, on Route 729 near Jeffersonville for several years, until about a year ago when she went to the rest home.

Besides her son, she is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Annie Whited of Ft. Wayne, Ind., seven grandchildren and three great-grandchildren. She also leaves a brother, Elmer Welsh, Bloomingburg.

Services will be conducted at 2 p. m. Saturday in the Alvin G. Little Funeral Home in Jeffersonville by the Rev. C. R. Williamson, pastor of the Methodist Church.

Burial will be in Fairview Cemetery.

Charles M. Patton

GREENFIELD — Charles M. Patton, 75, died at 10:20 p. m. Wednesday in the home of his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Joy E. Jinks, on the Good Hope-Greenfield Rd., four hours after he had suffered a heart attack at his own home, only a short distance away on the same road.

His parents came to Fayette County from Virginia and settled in the New Martinsburg community, but Mr. Patton had spent his entire life in the community where he died.

He is survived by his wife, Louella Taylor Patton; his daughter, Mrs. Jinks; a son, Charles William Jinks of the Good Hope community, and two grandchildren. He also leaves a sister, Mrs. Charles Beeker of Gibsonburg.

Services will be held at the Trueve Funeral Home here at 2 p. m. Saturday by the Rev. C. R. Lyle of Good Hope. Burial will be in the White Oak Cemetery near Buena Vista.

Friends may call at the funeral home after 10 a. m. Friday.

Piccard Says Satellite Could Carry A-Arms

Forest Shade Grange Plans Degree Work

Lectures and tips on safety in the home, on the farm, and while hunting, were given at a meeting of the Forest Shade Grange in Grange Hall.

"Fire Safety for Farms" was the supervised the program. Miss Ritter gave a talk entitled "Safety Hints and Fire Prevention Suggestions."

Grange Master Floyd Hoppes presided over the meeting.

* * *

MEMBERS agreed to serve their traditional election day dinner at Grange Hall, and to donate the proceeds to the New Martinsburg WSCS. Mrs. Willis Handley, Mrs. Russell Grice and Mrs. Eldon Bethards were named to a planning committee.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Caplinger will be host and hostess at the next meeting, Nov. 12, at which time third and fourth degree work will be given.

A candy contest will be held at the Pomona Gange meeting Thursday night, it was announced.

A sum of $10 was contributed to the Community Chest.

Proposed for membership were Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Glover, Jack Thompson, Mrs. June Salyer and her daughter and son, Dianna and Alton.

tory at Ottawa said Wednesday night the Russian moonlet, launched last Friday, had been photographed over Alberta. Earlier, it was reported that a photograph had been taken in New Zealand.

Dr. Fred Whipple, director of the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory at Cambridge, Mass., said no new information had been received to define more closely the satellite's orbit.

The signals emitted by the sphere were reported by listening posts in various places to have changed from the original beep-beep sound.

The U. S. Naval Research Laboratory here said it was receiving a hum interspersed with an occasional beep. Radio operators in Mazatlan, Mexico, told of hearing a signal that sounded like "psst, psst, psst."

A spokesman at the Naval Research Laboratory said the difference in signals might be explained by a variation in receiving equipment or perhaps the location of the sets in relation to the path of the satellite.

Two Moscow radio broadcasts, both for home listeners, gave conflicting views on the moonlet's speed. One said it was speeding up. The other said it was slowing down. There was no attempt to explain this conflict.

McElroy on Job

Band To Honor Parents Friday

Trip to the Moon To Feature Show

"POP" and "MOM" will be the stars of the Washington C. H. High School band show at WHS Lions meet Hillsboro's Indians in a SCO League football game at Gardner Park here Friday.

And, in honor of the esteemed couple, the band will take them on a trip to the moon, similar to the one the band members took from the Greenfield football field last Friday.

Actually, band members are sponsoring the extra trip for two reasons: partly in recognition of WHS Parents' Night and partly to remind the Russians that the Lion bandsmen beat the Red Star scientists into outer space by several days.

* * *

THE WHOLE evening will honor the parents of the football players the parents of the bandsmen and parents everywhere.

After "The Star Spangled Banner" is played by the combined WHS and Hillsboro bands, the WHS musicians will take the field and spell out "POP" and "MOM" in formation, recognizing parents' night.

At halftime, they will form a giant "H" in honor of Hillsboro High School, and then go into the trip to the moon routine. Songs featured include "Oh Mr. Moon," "A White Sport Coat," "Cuddle Up a Little Closer," "Auld Lang Syne," "Nearer My God to Thee," and "All Shook Up."

'Fireball' Sighted In Colorado Sky

DENVER (AP) — The Aeronautics Administration said a "huge fireball" passed over the Denver area shortly after 4 a.m. today.

A CAA spokesman said "it undoubtedly was a meteor." It disappeared in the southwestern sky.

The Colorado highway patrol and the U. S. Weather Bureau said they received reports from several Denver residents who observed the bright object.

The CAA said no planes are reported missing in the region. It said it had an unconfirmed report that the meteor, or part of it, had landed near Myton, Utah.

Several reports from pilots who sighted the fireball were monitored by the CAA's air route traffic center in Salt Lake City.

Pennsy Railroad To Lay Off 4000

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Pennsylvania Railroad plans to lay off about 4,000 employes as part of an economy program.

Vice President J. P. Newell said Wednesday all departments would be affected. He added that the layoffs would not be concentrated at any one place.

Newell said the economy program resulted from the failure of an expected business increase to materialize, as well as low volume of traffic and increasing wage costs.

DIRECTOR Herbert L. Karsh of the U. S. Air Force's "Operation Farside," rocket-to-the-moon project, examines the first-stage rocket cluster. "Farside," which USAF is ready to launch from Eniwetok in the Pacific, is a project to fire a three-stage rocket from a balloon 100,000 feet high, the rocket to circle the moon, televise its never-seen "far" side, and return. (International)

College Enrollment Totals To Top '56 Peak by 5 Pct.

CINCINNATI (AP)—Enrollment of full-time college students this fall is up about 5 per cent over last year's all-time peak, it was reported today by Dr. Raymond Walters, president emeritus of the University of Cincinnati.

Dr. Walters, who annually surveys and analyzes enrollments in 600 colleges and universities for the education journal, School and Society, based his estimate on preliminary reports from throughout the nation. His final report is due in December.

Dr. Walters said the increase is national in scope, not regional, and shows "the widespread desire for higher education."

Analyzing immediate returns which have come to him of approximate enrollments, he made these points:

1. As to full-time attendance, 86 per cent of the approved institutions recorded thus far have more or as many students this fall as last year, with 65 per cent having more.

2. As to freshman attendance, 4 per cent have more or as many first-year students, with about 50 per cent having more.

3. Of state and municipal universities reporting thus far, about 70 per cent have increased numbers of full-time students and fewer than 10 per cent (chiefly in freshmen) have decreases.

4. In view of limited facilities as to residence halls, classroom buildings, and faculty personnel, a group of private universities and some liberal arts colleges are restricting admissions.

5. A similar stabilization seems to be in process at about a third of the independent engineering schools and institutes thus far reporting. However, the total enrollment in technological courses in all institutions is definitely higher than in the fall of 1956.

6. The most consistent increases are at teachers colleges, where 75 per cent report gains, 17 per cent report no change, and only a few report losses.

7. Enrollment advances are general at urban universities and colleges in larger cities where, since students can live at home, the problem of financial expense is less formidable.

Wives Deplore 'Continuity' Of Housework

Or, as one of them put it, "It's always there. It's so daily."

This was one of the important points of agreement reached among 100 women from 45 states meeting today in a conference called Congress on Better Living.

The meeting is a followup to a women's convention on housing design sponsored last year by the Home Finance Agency.

Today, the delegates are discussing the kind of house they live in and the style they would prefer to have — particularly with respect to a private retreat in the home for father.

Last year, the ladies suggested letting father use a sort of "mud room," where the youngsters come in and track their feet after play, as his spot for solitude.

This conference promoted Dad to a sort of master bedroom where he could read or do work brought home from the office.

Multi-Nation Talks On Space Are Urged

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The United States declared today it is ready to begin multi-nation talks immediately on steps to harness space missiles for peace.

The statement was made by Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge as the U. N.'s 82 - nation Political Committee plunged into a detailed debate on disarmament.

Lodge asserted the United States was willing to separate the discussion of space missiles from the general disarmament debate and proceed with it independently.

Korean Student Loses Cincy Bid

CINCINNATI (AP) — A Korean student at the University of Cincinnati has lost his bid to have the "top and most powerful organization in the city" (city council) help him get a taxi driver's license.

Reason: Jae-Kee Kim is already working parttime for the city on UC's co-op program.

The Korean had asked council to waive a law which requires would-be chauffeurs to be U. S. citizens.

He said he wanted a job to help foot his bills at UC and said: "I shall be on the tiptoe of expectation to hear from you."

But Council learned Wednesday that because of the student's co-op job, he cannot get another job without permission first from the university and then from the federal government.

Some Labor Leaders Contemptuous of Public

The general public's attitude is beginning to be affected toward a number of labor leaders, due to racket investigations by congressional committees and such things as were demonstrated at the Miami, Florida, convention of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters where certain allegedly corrupt labor leaders rather floutingly demonstrated their contempt for public opinion.

As investigation of certain apparently unbridled and unprincipled labor leaders continues in various spots over the nation, such labor bosses emerge in somewhat the same sinister role once charged against certain leaders of so-called "big business" many years ago.

The only difference now is that big business is definitely legally restricted in what it can do while unionism, with its powerful vote influence upon many members of Congress, has succeeded in keeping unions from undergoing many of the same restrictions in federal law.

A half century or more ago when a comparative few rich and powerfully influential business tycoons conspired to restrain trade, corner markets, or push up prices, these few were hardly typical of the business community as a whole. The honest majority of businessmen could have said exactly what such labor leaders as President Meany of the AFL-CIO are saying now.

They could have argued that the honest majority shouldn't be made to suffer for the misdeeds of the dishonest few. In short, they could have made a great din about "restrictive" legislation, but it wouldn't have done them any good.

Union leaders no longer able to deny the presence of far-reaching corruption are now saying that the sins of the few should not be made the excuse for "restrictive" legislation punishing the many. But of course any corrective legislation would necessarily be "restrictive" of wrongdoing if it served its intended purpose.

The unions have successfully resisted incorporation and are therefore able to evade legal liability for actions that would result in lawsuits against any business engaging in similar acts. In consequence of a long series of loaded court interpretations, moreover, the unions now enjoy complete immunity from the anti-trust laws.

They not only are exempted from the provisions against combination and agreements in restraint of trade but they also may interfere actively with trade and commerce without fear of punishment.

No one can truthfully call Donald R. Richberg an enemy of labor. He has been one of this country's leading labor lawyers. He was prominent in the New Deal and once headed the NRA. He was co-author of the Railway Labor Act, which many labor spokesmen regard as a monument of its kind.

This gives significance to a book Mr. Richberg has written— a book whose title makes its point: "Labor Union Monopoly: A Clear and Present Danger." Richberg goes into full detail in tracing the growth of this monopoly, and then offers a three-faceted proposal for curbing it.

First, he believes, the anti-trust laws should be extended to make the creation and exercise of monopoly powers by labor unions unlawful. In other words, the unions would simply be placed in the same legal position as all other groups in our society.

Second, he urges that Congress declare compulsory unionism a form of "involuntary servitude," within the definition of the 13th amendment to the constitution. This would amount to a national "right to work" law, under which a man could join a union if he so chose or refuse to join if he so chose and have the right to a job in his trade in either case.

Third, he would have the law forbid strikes against the public health, safety and welfare; strikes designed to compel political action and strikes conducted with the aid of criminal violence.

Most fair-minded people believe like Richberg in being for a labor policy, based in law, that would safeguard the legitimate interests of all— the worker, business and industry, and, most important, the American people as a whole.

Muskingum College Classes Suspended

NEW CONCORD, Ohio (AP)—An outbreak of influenza at Muskingum College here has resulted in suspension of classes, at least until Tuesday.

Although no positive diagnosis has been made, President Howard Evans said the disease apparently is not Asian flu.

Absenteeism at Wednesday's afternoon classes reached 40 per cent of the school's 1,100 students, Evans reported. He said the outbreak apparently started over the weekend.

Evans said all campus events have been postponed but added no decision has been made about the Muskingum - Wittenberg football game here Saturday.

High School Class Gets $1,174 from Soil Bank

EDINBURGH, Tex. (AP) — A. A. Vela, vocational agriculture teacher at Edinburgh High, says his class made $1,174 last season from the soil bank and other government subsidies and payments while crop proceeds, prizes and other income amounted to $1,071.38. Twenty of the 40 acres the class worked last year were placed in the soil bank.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

OGDEN NASH confesses, "At the age of 43 I was stage struck, and that caused an odd bit of whimsy, 'The Sweet Bye and Bye,' which said bye-bye to Broadway in exactly ten days. At one performance, the leading lady, looking through the stage curtain peep hole, murmured, 'The audience appears to be in a nasty mood tonight.' 'Don't worry,' the leading man reassured her. 'We'll probably outnumber them!'"

Diet and Health — Blow Top Privately To Avoid Ulcers

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

It's a good idea to let off some steam every time you feel the need. It might keep you from developing an ulcer.

Of course, exploding at the wrong moment to the wrong person also might very well lead you to the unemployment line or the divorce court. But by wisely choosing the proper person to tell your troubles to, you generally can avert any serious consequences.

Emotional stress such as resentment makes the juices secreted by your stomach stronger. This can, and often does, lead to formation of ulcers. Therefore a simple way to prevent this from happening is to get rid of any pent-up anger.

Say the boss bawls you out. Okay, you don't want to talk back to him, but you've got to sound off to somebody. Why not try your spouse?

Let her know what goes on in the office or plant, especially when somethng goes wrong. Most wives would be willing to share their husbands' problems if they were only given the chance.

If this still doesn't ease your tension, you can take it outsecretly—on the boss himself.

Get a picture of the boss or even the building where you work. Then go down to the basement or to your recreation room, hang the picture on the wall and hurl darts at it.

A couple of bulleyes and your anger probably will subside.

If this isn't practical, try whacking a golf ball or baseball, anything (but not your wife) that will help you "get it out of your system."

The perfect solution is to sound off when the disturbing factor occurs.

Some of you more fortunate employees or employers can get away with it. But for the average guy, the one who can't say much without danger of losing his job, the best plan is to take your problem home when you can blow your top in private.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWER

P. G.: Can you tell me what causes a ringing in my ears?

Answer: This may be due to anemia, kidney disease or an accumulation of wax in the ear, as well as to an infection in the tube connecting the ear with the mouth.

It would be advisable to have a physical examination to determine the cause.

Warren County Jail Escape Plot Nipped

LEBANON (AP)—Sheriff Richard Satterthwaite says he has nipped an escape plot by six prisoners in county jail. The sheriff put the six in solitary confinement Wednesday and cancelled visiting privileges for all prisoners.

Satterthwaite said he discovered bricks loosened and the casing removed from a barred rear window of the jail.

Everybody Scared but Elsa

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—"Everybody is frightened but me," said Miss Elsa Maxwell, looking like a Roman empress as she lay, propped up by a pillow, in her bed in the Waldorf Towers.

"If I knew I were to die tomorrow, I'd want my epitaph to be: 'I Die Happy!'" For I was born gay, and my life has been glorious, transcendently magical, full of glamor—and I mean real glamor."

This adventurous lady was born in a Keokuk, Iowa, opera house during a performance of "Mignon," and grew up to throw 2,000 society parties around the world.

At 74 Elsa has become one of the big surprise hits of the winter celebrity season. Her breezy wit has made her a Tuesday night star on "Tonight," the NBC TV show. Her book on how to throw a party is condensed in the current issue of McCall's. Las Vegas has called her for a two-week engagement—"not to perform, just too look at me."

"I'm young and fresh at 74. I roar with laughter. It's because I'm alive. It shows that to be yourself is all that matters—to say what you think.

"Most people are afraid, not only of themselves but of everything else. Fear is the thing that destroys everybody.

"That is why there are so few young people in America today. They're automatons racing toward a goal they don't know. They try to beat the clock, beat the other fellow—and they die young, before they have lived.

"I am not merely a party thrower . . . . I've led at least nine lives and known most of the great people of my time. But there is no question I do give the best parties in the world.

"Why? Because I can say no to bores. I think to be boring is to be criminal.

"If I were cast away on a desert island, the five people I'd like most to have with me would be Arthur Rubinstein and Maria Callas (I can't live without music), Noel Coward (his conversation is divine), Jack Paar (he's so amusing), and a great scientist. Why? To figure out a way to get me off the darned island.

"The five people I'd hate most to be cast up on a desert island with are Elvis Presley, King Farouk, Arthur Godfrey, Liberace, and Jimmy Hoffa, that Teamster official. The first four bore me. I think Godfrey is the greatest bore that ever lived. And as for Hoffa, what good would a truckdriver be on a desert island?

"What is my philosophy? I believe the way to be happy is to give happiness. Do the best you can for all you can as long as you have the strength, endurance and imagination to do it. Also remember always to be polite to those who are less lucky in life than you are. And don't let possessions possess you. The only thing I own in this world is this ring on my finger."

Can We Achieve Economic Sanity?

By George Sokolsky

Every country has its particular kind of strength or it would not exist at all. Politicians have a way of limiting their discussions to strength which sounds good to the multitude but which, if accepted without criticism lead to disaster.

The critic is never too popular in a period of inflation, both of money and the ego, because he annoys, he irritates, he even frightens those who dare not face tomorrow.

Sen. Harry F. Byrd has for years been calling attention to the dangerous tax load that the American people must carry. At the end of last year, the debt load amounted to:

	Billion
"Corporate	$253
Private	213
Federal	277
State and Local	50
Total	793

"This is an increase of $200 billion, or about 33 per cent, in 4 years.

"With only temporary exceptions to the ride, federal expenditures have been constantly rising, and in recent years—since 1954—the greatest increases have been in strictly domestic—civilian programs; not military and foreign aid. State and local governments have been following suit. Combined federal, state and local expenditures from tax revenue, miscellaneous receipts and borrowing are running to a total of more than 132 billion dollars annually."

In addition to the 275 billion dollars of federal debt, there are an additional 250 billions of contingent liabilities which may become an actual charge on the Treasury under certain circumstances. In a word, the citizen faces the prospect and possibility that his government's indebtedness could amount to 225 billions according to Sen. Byrd.

At the same time that this indebtedness has been developing, consumer's prices have been steadily marching upward since 1940. Consumer's prices have increased by more than 100 per cent since 1939 and the dollar has declined by more than 50 per cent and the loss is continuing.

Considering the vulnerability of the United States, this inflationary condition can be devastating if it continues to grow worse.

To ignore it is criminal. To take the wrong steps to end it because the right steps are politically embarrassing is outrageously cowardly.

To tell the people not to buy what they need and to postpone buying what they want while the government continues to be profligately wasteful is hypocritical.

The first step to economic sanity must be the release of the American people from the war budget which continues to afflict us.

Are we at war? That question must be answered at the polls sooner or later because if we are not at war, we need not continue to pay war-time taxes; if we are at war, how can we subsidize enemy or neutral countries? The Eisenhower administration has great difficulty realizing that the course of history does not wait nor is it made in any one country.

More and more, it is the interplay of universal forces which starting in one area influences all the world. For instance, what we see in China today started during the Taiping Rebellion (1850-1864) and is a reflex of the first impact of Western Christianity upon the Chinese mind. Its end result is the curious brand of Marxism which became the philosophy of the rationalistic, pragmatic Mao Tze-Tung who studied philosophy with John Dewey's pupil, Hu Shih ,at Peking University.

When we deal with vulnerabilities, we must note that while our economy is becoming dangerously inflated and our people are suffering from political apathy, our educational system is not producing the inquiring intelligence necessary to live in our hard world. Henry L. Roberts makes the point:

". . .It is chastening but useful to realize that virtually every new weapon of the Second World War was the outgrowth of European, not American, thinking. To be sure, we have displayed our customary ability in organizing, applying and mass-producing the products of this thinking, but a roster of the personnel connected not only with the Manhatten project but with the subsequent development of the thermonuclear weapons will show the extent of our dependence upon foreign scientific thought and theory. . ."

Yet we have had universal compulsory education for a century and we have a greater high school and college registration than any country. Where have we gone wrong? Are we so hard-headed and practical that we fail in the realm of theory upon which all science is based? Are we so busy counting with machines we do not produce mathematicians? These questions concern our survival.

Some Labor Leaders Contemptuous of Public

The general public's attitude is beginning to be affected toward a number of labor leaders, due to racket investigations by congressional committees and such things as were demonstrated at the Miami, Florida, convention of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters where certain allegedly corrupt labor leaders rather floutingly demonstrated their contempt for public opinion.

As investigation of certain apparently unbridled and unprincipled labor leaders continues in various spots over the nation, such labor bosses emerge in somewhat the same sinister role once charged against certain leaders of so-called "big business" many years ago.

The only difference now is that big business is definitely legally restricted in what it can do while unionism, with its powerful vote influence upon many members of Congress, has succeeded in keeping unions from undergoing many of the same restrictions in federal law.

A half century or more ago when a comparative few rich and powerfully influential business tycoons conspired to restrain trade, corner markets, or push up prices, these few were hardly typical of the business community as a whole. The honest majority of businessmen could have said exactly what such labor leaders as President Meany of the AFL-CIO are saying now.

They could have argued that the honest majority shouldn't be made to suffer for the misdeeds of the dishonest few. In short, they could have made a great din about "restrictive" legislation, but it wouldn't have done them any good.

Union leaders no longer able to deny the presence of far-reaching corruption are now saying that the sins of the few should not be made the excuse for "restrictive" legislation punishing the many. But of course any corrective legislation would necessarily be "restrictive" of wrongdoing if it served its intended purpose.

The unions have successfully resisted incorporation and are therefore able to evade legal liability for actions that would result in lawsuits against any business engaging in similar acts. In consequence of a long series of loaded court interpretations, moreover, the unions now enjoy complete immunity from the anti-trust laws.

They not only are exempted from the provisions against combination and agreements in restraint of trade but they also may interfere actively with trade and commerce without fear of punishment.

No one can truthfully call Donald R. Richberg an enemy of labor. He has been one of this country's leading labor lawyers. He was prominent in the New Deal and once headed the NRA. He was co-author of the Railway Labor Act, which many labor spokesmen regard as a monument of its kind.

This gives significance to a book Mr. Richberg has written— a book whose title makes its point: "Labor Union Monopoly: A Clear and Present Danger." Richberg goes into full detail in tracing the growth of this monopoly, and then offers a three-faceted proposal for curbing it.

First, he believes, the anti-trust laws should be extended to make the creation and exercise of monopoly powers by labor unions unlawful. In other words, the unions would simply be placed in the same legal position as all other groups in our society.

Second, he urges that Congress declare compulsory unionism a form of "involuntary servitude," within the definition of the 13th amendment to the constitution. This would amount to a national "right to work" law, under which a man could join a union if he so chose or refuse to join if he so chose and have the right to a job in his trade in either case.

Third, he would have the law forbid strikes against the public health, safety and welfare; strikes designed to compel political action and strikes conducted with the aid of criminal violence.

Most fair-minded people believe like Richberg in being for a labor policy, based in law, that would safeguard the legitimate interests of all— the worker, business and industry, and, most important, the American people as a whole.

Muskingum College Classes Suspended

Although no positive diagnosis has been made, President Howard Evans said the disease apparently is not Asian flu.

Absenteeism at Wednesday's afternoon classes reached 40 per cent of the school's 1,100 students, Evans reported. He said the outbreak apparently started over the weekend.

Evans said all campus events have been postponed but added no decision has been made about the Muskingum - Wittenberg football game here Saturday.

High School Class Gets $1,174 from Soil Bank

EDINBURGH, Tex. (AP) — A. A. Vela, vocational agriculture teacher at Edinburgh High, says his class made $1,174 last season from the soil bank and other government subsidies and payments while crop proceeds, prizes and other income amounted to $1,071.38. Twenty of the 40 acres the class worked last year were placed in the soil bank.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

OGDEN NASH confesses, "At the age of 43 I was stage struck, and that caused an odd bit of whimsy, 'The Sweet Bye and Bye,' which said bye-bye to Broadway in exactly ten days. At one performance, the leading lady, looking through the stage curtain peep hole, murmured, 'The audience appears to be in a nasty mood tonight.' 'Don't worry,' the leading man reassured her. 'We'll probably outnumber them!'"

Diet and Health — Blow Top Privately To Avoid Ulcers

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

It's a good idea to let off some steam every time you feel the need. It might keep you from developing an ulcer.

Of course, exploding at the wrong moment to the wrong person also might very well lead you to the unemployment line or the divorce court. But by wisely choosing the proper person to tell your troubles to, you generally can avert any serious consequences.

Emotional stress such as resentment makes the juices secreted by your stomach stronger. This can, and often does, lead to formation of ulcers. Therefore a simple way to prevent this from happening is to get rid of any pent-up anger.

Say the boss bawls you out. Okay, you don't want to talk back to him, but you've got to sound off to somebody. Why not try your spouse?

Let her know what goes on in the office or plant, especially when somethng goes wrong. Most wives would be willing to share their husbands' problems if they were only given the chance.

If this still doesn't ease your tension, you can take it outsecretly—on the boss himself.

Get a picture of the boss or even the building where you work. Then go down to the basement or to your recreation room, hang the picture on the wall and hurl darts at it.

A couple of bulleyes and your anger probably will subside.

If this isn't practical, try whacking a golf ball or baseball, anything (but not your wife) that will help you "get it out of your system."

The perfect solution is to sound off when the disturbing factor occurs.

Some of you more fortunate employees or employers can get away with it. But for the average guy, the one who can't say much without danger of losing his job, the best plan is to take your problem home when you can blow your top in private.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWER

P. G.: Can you tell me what causes a ringing in my ears?

Answer: This may be due to anemia, kidney disease or an accumulation of wax in the ear, as well as to an infection in the tube connecting the ear with the mouth.

It would be advisable to have a physical examination to determine the cause.

Warren County Jail Escape Plot Nipped

LEBANON (AP)—Sheriff Richard Satterthwaite says he has nipped an escape plot by six prisoners in county jail. The sheriff put the six in solitary confinement Wednesday and cancelled visiting privileges for all prisoners.

Satterthwaite said he discovered bricks loosened and the casing removed from a barred rear window of the jail.

Everybody Scared but Elsa

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) —"Everybody is frightened but me," said Miss Elsa Maxwell, looking like a Roman empress as she lay, propped up by a pillow, in her bed in the Waldorf Towers.

"If I knew I were to die tomorrow, I'd want my epitaph to be: 'I Die Happy!" For I was born gay, and my life has been glorious, transcendently magical, full of glamor—and I mean real glamor."

This adventurous lady was born in a Keokuk, Iowa, opera house during a performance of "Mignon," and grew up to throw 2,000 society parties around the world.

At 74 Elsa has become one of the big surprise hits of the winter celebrity season. Her breezy wit has made her a Tuesday night star on "Tonight," the NBC TV show. Her book on how to throw a party is condensed in the current issue of McCall's. Las Vegas has called her for a two-week engagement—"not to perform, just too look at me."

"I'm young and fresh at 74. I roar with laughter. It's because I'm alive. It shows that to be yourself is all that matters—to say what you think.

"Most people are afraid, not only of themselves but of everything else. Fear is the thing that destroys everybody.

"That is why there are so few young people in America today. They're automatons racing toward a goal they don't know. They try to beat the clock, beat the other fellow—and they die young, before they have lived.

"I am not merely a party thrower . . . . I've led at least nine lives and known most of the great people of my time. But there is no question I do give the best parties in the world.

"Why? Because I can say no to bores. I think to be boring is to be criminal.

"If I were cast away on a desert island, the five people I'd like most to have with me would be Arthur Rubinstein and Maria Callas (I can't live without music), Noel Coward (his conversation is divine), Jack Paar (he's so amusing), and a great scientist. Why? To figure out a way to get me off the darned island.

"The five people I'd hate most to be cast up on a desert island with are Elvis Presley, King Farouk, Arthur Godfrey, Liberace, and Jimmy Hoffa, that Teamster official. The first four bore me. I think Godfrey is the greatest bore that ever lived. And as for Hoffa, what good would a truckdriver be on a desert island?

"What is my philosophy? I believe the way to be happy is to give happiness. Do the best you can for all you can as long as you have the strength, endurance and imagination to do it. Also remember always to be polite to those who are less lucky in life than you are. And don't let possessions possess you. The only thing I own in this world is this ring on my finger."

Can We Achieve Economic Sanity?

By George Sokolsky

Every country has its particular kind of strength or it would not exist at all. Politicians have a way of limiting their discussions to strength which sounds good to the multitude but which, if accepted without criticism lead to disaster.

The critic is never too popular in a period of inflation, both of money and the ego, because he annoys, he irritates, he even frightens those who dare not face tomorrow.

Sen. Harry F. Byrd has for years been calling attention to the dangerous tax load that the American people must carry. At the end of last year, the debt load amounted to:

	Billion
"Corporate	$253
Private	213
Federal	277
State and Local	50
Total	793

"This is an increase of $200 billion, or about 33 per cent, in 4 years.

"With only temporary exceptions to the ride, federal expenditures have been constantly rising, and in recent years—since 1954—the greatest increases have been in strictly domestic—civilian programs; not military and foreign aid. State and local governments have been following suit. Combined federal, state and local expenditures from tax revenue, miscellaneous receipts and borrowing are running to a total of more than 132 billion dollars annually."

In addition to the 275 billion dollars of federal debt, there are an additional 250 billions of contingent liabilities which may become an actual charge on the Treasury under certain circumstances. In a word, the citizen faces the prospect and possibility that his government's indebtedness could amount to 225 billions according to Sen. Byrd.

At the same time that this indebtedness has been developing, consumer's prices have been steadily marching upward since 1940. Consumer's prices have increased by more than 100 per cent since 1939 and the dollar has declined by more than 50 per cent and the loss is continuing.

Considering the vulnerability of the United States, this inflationary condition can be devastating if it continues to grow worse.

To ignore it is criminal. To take the wrong steps to end it because the right steps are politically embarrassing is outrageously cowardly.

To tell the people not to buy what they need and to postpone buying what they want while the government continues to be profligately wasteful is hypocritical.

The first step to economic sanity must be the release of the American people from the war budget which continues to afflict us.

Are we at war? That question must be answered at the polls sooner or later because if we are not at war, we need not continue to pay war-time taxes; if we are at war, how can we subsidize enemy or neutral countries? The Eisenhower administration has great difficulty realizing that the course of history does not wait nor is it made in any one country.

More and more, it is the interplay of universal forces which starting in one area influences all the world. For instance, what we see in China today started during the Taiping Rebellion (1850-1864) and is a reflex of the first impact of Western Christianity upon the Chinese mind. Its end result is the curious brand of Marxism which became the philosophy of the rationalistic, pragmatic Mao Tze-Tung who studied philosophy with John Dewey's pupil, Hu Shih, at Peking University.

When we deal with vulnerabilities, we must note that while our economy is becoming dangerously inflated and our people are suffering from political apathy, our educational system is not producing the inquiring intelligence necessary to live in our hard world. Henry L. Roberts makes the point:

". . .It is chastening but useful to realize that virtually every new weapon of the Second World War was the outgrowth of European, not American, thinking. To be sure, we have displayed our customary ability in organizing, applying and mass-producing the products of this thinking, but a roster of the personnel connected not only with the Manhatten project but with the subsequent development of the thermonuclear weapons will show the extent of our dependence upon foreign scientific thought and theory. . ."

Yet we have had universal compulsory education for a century and we have a greater high school and college registration than any country. Where have we gone wrong? Are we so hard-headed and practical that we fail in the realm of theory upon which all science is based? Are we so busy counting with machines we do not produce mathematicians? These questions concern our survival.

BPO Does Drove No. 80 Hostess To Supreme President Thomlinson

The Washington Court House B. P. O. Does Drove No. 80 was hostess to the national supreme president, Mrs. Lillian Thomlinson, Ogden, Utah, on her official visit here.

Monday noon Mrs. Thomlinson was entertained by 17 members of the Does at the Country Club at a luncheon and in the evening she

At the regular meeting Tuesday, different phases of the ritualistic floor work was exemplified. All officers were attired in white formals. During the meeting the supreme president conducted a school of instruction in floor work.

Mrs. Thomlinson was presented a wool stole and a white mum corsage with yellow and gold ribbon as a gift from the Drove.

At the close of the meeting, refreshments were served by the officers. The tea table was beautifully appointed with yellow candles tied with purple bows and a yellow mum centerpiece with purple ribbon.

Parish Visitor Is Named for Grace Church

The Rev. Perry Grimm has joined the staff of Grace Methodist Church as parish visitor.

He was named to assist the Rev L. J. Poe, the pastor, in the field of visitation by unanimous action of the church's official board. His particular area of work will be among the shut-ins and house-to-house calling.

THE REV. PERRY GRIMM

The board, in a statement in "Grace Notes," the church bulletin, said: ". . .the board that we should make use of his unusual talent for making friends."

The Rev. Mr. Poe said of the Rev. Mr. Grimm's appointment: "In a church the size of Grace Church, with the membership increasing constantly, pastoral calling is of vital importance. It is necessary to have close contact between the church and home if the church is to avoid becoming merely a cold, impersonal institution." He explained that he felt that visits to the homes help keep members in touch with the church and all of its varied activities.

The Rev. and Mrs. Grimm came to Washington C. H. in June of 1956 from Cincinnati, where the Rev. Mr. Grimm had been pastor of the North Hyde Park Methodist Church for 30 years before his retirement.

They are now residing at 227 W. Circle Ave., in one of the four original houses in Gardner Village, now in the process of development by the Methodist Church as a colony for retired ministers. Gardner Village was made possible by Miss Edith Gardner, who left virtually her entire estate for this purpose.

Gatewood Class Asked To Help in Church Nursery

Fourtee members of Gatewood Circle 11 of Grace Methodist Church WSCS met at the home of Mrs. Samuel Wilson Wednesday night.

Mrs. Robert Blake, assistant leader, conducted the meeting in the absence of the leader, Mrs. Robert Gatewood.

Reports were given by Mrs. Lowell Dodds and Mrs. Eugene Shaw. Mrs. Dodds also reported a request from the church office for helpers in the church nursery during the worship service, members volunteered to work during November.

A rummage sale was suggested by Mrs. Benny Self of the ways and means committee and tentative plans were made to hold it during November if possible.

Following the business meeting, devotions were led by Mrs. Floyd West, who offered a prayer and read a meditation on the topic "Our Home Missions and Race." The group closed this period by singing hymns, accompanied by Mrs. Hal Summers.

Mrs. Blake told of six missions, in her presentation of the program, which followed the theme of missions introduced through the devotions.

India, Where Grim Sepoy Mutiny Raged, Held World's Interest Just 100 Years Ago

The Famous Gate of Lucknow. Here was staged the great siege of 1857.

By OWEN EVANS
Central Press Assn.

Events in India today may be watched with intense interest by the rest of the world— and so it was just a century ago, but for entirely different reasons.

The great Asiatic subcontinent, now divided into the independent nations of the Union of India (Hindu) and Pakistan (Moslem), in 1857 was a part of the British empire, though a very unruly part indeed.

Just 100 years ago rebellion against British authority raged through the land. The rebels had seized the military stations of Meerut and Cawnpore, the native troops massacring their British officers. At Cawnpore the savage insurrectionists had murdered even the European women and children.

When the great city of Delhi fell to the mutinous mobs, all Europeans, regardless of nationality, and native Christians were slaughtered. It is no wonder then, that in September of 1857, the western world watched with bated breath and fervent prayer the next episode of the bloody drama, the siege of Lucknow, where the British held out against great odds.

* * *

THE INDIAN Mutiny, or, as it is better known by its other name, the Sepoy Rebellion, had come as a stunning shock to the western world, though its seeds had been sown long before.

For years the populace of India had become increasingly hostile to the European masters for continuing reasons— such as systematic acquisition by the East India company (British) of native territories and lack of respect by European officials for Moslem and Hindu religious customs.

* * *

AN IMMEDIATE cause of the revolt by the British - trained native troops (known as Sepoys) was the issuance of cartridges, greased with lard and tallow, to the Sepoy troops for use in their muzzle-loading rifles.

Now, lard was taboo to the Moslems as was tallow to the Hindus, yet, in order to load their guns, the Sepoy troops had to remove the rifle ball from its cartridge with their teeth, tasting the forbidden grease.

Earlier in the year a native battalion had refused to load its rifles and was disbanded as a result.

Then, the officers of the Meerut garrison made the profound mistake of jailing several native soldiers for the same act. Their comrades mutinied, attacked the station, freed the prisoners and massacred the protesting British. From then on it was war— a terribly brutal war.

* * *

BAHADUR SHAH II, heir to the vacant throne of the old Mogul empire, became a leader of the insurrection and hordes of native fighting men rallied to his standard.

Now, the British had faced other native disturbances in India and had always managed to put them down. The revolt of 1857, however, was an entirely different matter.

At Madras, in 1806, the Sepoys (from the native word Sipahi—meaning "soldier") had mutinied against wearing European clothes and accoutrements. And in 1824 the Bengal Native Infantry refused to march to Burma when ordered to do so. They were disbanded.

* * *

AS LATE as 1844 seven Bengal army battalions had engaged in a comparatively mild mutiny over the question of allowances.

No such minor matters disturbed the rebellious Sepoy of 1857. He and his faith, he felt, had been grievously insulted and degraded—through the media of pork fat and tallow.

Though the revolution dragged on until April, 1859, the rest of its history is quickly told. Delhi was recaptured by the British in September and troops under Sir John Campbell on Nov. 17 relieved Lucknow. By mid - 1858 all important cities and military posts were again in British hands.

* * *

THE BACKBONE of the revolt was broken when the British captured and executed the real leader of the rebels, the highly competent Tantia Topi. Bahadur Shah II got off a bit easier, being sentenced to life imprisonment.

The natives gained one great advantage as a result of the rebellion— the right to govern India was taken away from the East India company and invested, instead, in the British crown.

Leesburg Man Heads Mayflower Compact Panel

LEESBURG — S. A. Ringer has accepted an invitation to be area chairman to promote the observation of the 337th anniversary of the signing of the Mayflower Compact, the first constitutional charter for free government in America, and the forerunner of the Declaration of Independence and the present American Constitution.

Ringer a member of the Society of Mayflower Descendants in the State of Ohio by being tenth in decent from William and Mary Wentworth Brewster, Mayflower passengers and spiritual leaders of the Pilgrim Colony, has been assigned Fayette, Highland, Pickaway, Ross, Pike, Scioto, and Adams counties as the area in which he is to function.

Literature has been mailed to the heads of all secondary schools and to pastors of the several ministerial associations of the area offering to provide copies of the Mayflower Compact and other program material for observance of Compact Day, Nov. 21. All material will be free.

Scores of responses have already been made requesting as many as 325 copies of the Compact for one school and others in proportion to the number of teachers and students concerned, Ringer said.

BURBANK, Calif. (AP)—Jack Reimer says the burglar who broke into his house certainly was a lousy housekeeper.

When Reimer returned from a recent vacation he found the sink stacked with dirty dishes, beds unmade and food spilled on the floor. Whoever broke into the house did not take anything, just ate and slept, Reimer said, "But he was a real slob."

India, Where Grim Sepoy Mutiny Raged, Held World's Interest Just 100 Years Ago

The Famous Gate of Lucknow. Here was staged the great siege of 1857.

By OWEN EVANS
Central Press Assn.

Events in India today may be watched with intense interest by the rest of the world— and so it was just a century ago, but for entirely different reasons.

The great Asiatic subcontinent, now divided into the independent nations of the Union of India (Hindu) and Pakistan (Moslem), in 1857 was a part of the British empire, though a very unruly part indeed.

Just 100 years ago rebellion against British authority raged through the land. The rebels had seized the military stations of Meerut and Cawnpore, the native troops massacring their British officers. At Cawnpore the savage insurrectionists had murdered even the European women and children.

When the great city of Delhi fell to the mutinous mobs, all Europeans, regardless of nationality, and native Christians were slaughtered. It is no wonder then, that in September of 1857, the western world watched with bated breath and fervent prayer the next episode of the bloody drama, the siege of Lucknow, where the British held out against great odds.

* * *

THE INDIAN Mutiny, or, as it is better known by its other name, the Sepoy Rebellion, had come as a stunning shock to the western world, though its seeds had been sown long before.

For years the populace of India had become increasingly hostile to the European masters for continuing reasons— such as systematic acquisition by the East India company (British) of native territories and lack of respect by European officials for Moslem and Hindu religious customs.

* * *

AN IMMEDIATE cause of the revolt by the British - trained native troops (known as Sepoys) was the issuance of cartridges, greased with lard and tallow, to the Sepoy troops for use in their muzzle-loading rifles.

Now, lard was taboo to the Moslems as was tallow to the Hindus, yet, in order to load their guns, the Sepoy troops had to remove the rifle ball from its cartridge with their teeth, tasting the forbidden grease.

Earlier in the year a native battalion had refused to load its rifles and was disbanded as a result.

Then, the officers of the Meerut garrison made the profound mistake of jailing several native soldiers for the same act. Their comrades mutinied, attacked the station, freed the prisoners and massacred the protesting British. From then on it was war— a terribly brutal war.

* * *

BAHADUR SHAH II, heir to the vacant throne of the old Mogul empire, became a leader of the insurrection and hordes of native fighting men rallied to his standard.

Now, the British had faced other native disturbances in India and had always managed to put them down. The revolt of 1857, however, was an entirely different matter.

At Madras, in 1806, the Sepoys (from the native word Sipahi—meaning "soldier") had mutinied against wearing European clothes and accoutrements. And in 1824 the Bengal Native Infantry refused to march to Burma when ordered to do so. They were disbanded.

* * *

AS LATE as 1844 seven Bengal army battalions had engaged in a comparatively mild mutiny over the question of allowances.

No such minor matters disturbed the rebellious Sepoy of 1857. He and his faith, he felt, had been grievously insulted and degraded—through the media of pork fat and tallow.

Though the revolution dragged on until April. 1859, the rest of its history is quickly told. Delhi was recaptured by the British in September and troops under Sir John Campbell on Nov. 17 relieved Lucknow. By mid - 1858 all important cities and military posts were again in British hands.

* * *

THE BACKBONE of the revolt was broken when the British captured and executed the real leader of the rebels, the highly competent Tantia Topi. Bahadur Shah II got off a bit easier, being sentenced to life imprisonment.

The natives gained one great advantage as a result of the rebellion— the right to govern India was taken away from the East India company and invested, instead, in the British crown.

Leesburg Man Heads Mayflower Compact Panel

LEESBURG — S. A. Ringer has accepted an invitation to be area chairman to promote the observation of the 337th anniversary of the signing of the Mayflower Compact, the first constitutional charter for free government in America, and the forerunner of the Declaration of Independence and the present American Constitution.

Ringer a member of the Society of Mayflower Descendants in the State of Ohio by being tenth in decent from William and Mary Wentworth Brewster, Mayflower passengers and spiritual leaders of the Pilgrim Colony, has been assigned Fayette, Highland, Pickaway, Ross, Pike, Scioto, and Adams counties as the area in which he is to function.

Literature has been mailed to the heads of all secondary schools and to pastors of the several ministerial associations of the area offering to provide copies of the Mayflower Compact and other program material for observance of Compact Day, Nov. 21. All material will be free.

Scores of responses have already been made requesting as many as 325 copies of the Compact for one school and others in proportion to the number of teachers and students concerned, Ringer said.

Court To Get Miami Trace Key Issues Tuesday

Another chapter—perhaps the concluding one—in Fayette County's long-standing school controversy will be opened next Tuesday in the Ohio Supreme Court.

The occasion will be the submission to the court of a pleading by the Miami Trace Board of Education which, should it be sustained by the high court, could result in the immediate issuance of a writ of mandamus ordering the board's clerk to advertise and sell $1,652,500 in building bonds approved by voters of that district last November.

The pleading is a part of a friendly suit brought last April by the Miami Trace board against its clerk, Mrs. Senath Thompson, in an effort to clarify the status of the bonds and to pave the way for a start on the district's building program which includes a modern high school at Eber.

Also to be submitted to the court is an amended answer filed by Mrs. Thompson which, to provide for final court determination, raises the question of the legality of the "purpose clause" in the board's bond legislation. This clause has been attacked by opponents of the bond issue as misleading and depriving electors of the right to vote on the various purposes of the bond issue.

Both matters are to be presented to the court as written briefs. There will be no oral arguments.

* * *

THE BOARD'S pleading contains a motion to strike from the files 12 arguments brought forward by a group of six Fayette County citizens who oppose issuance of a court order to sell the building bonds. The board alleges that the 12 arguments are false, frivolous and designed only to delay the building program.

The six citizens—County Treasurer Charles A. Fabb, Frank S. Jackson, Ralph R. Penn, Mrs. C. Elton Rhoad, Maynard A. Wilson and Will A. Rodgers—were granted permission to intervene in the Miami Trace suit as a means of bringing up for court consideration as many as possible of the arguments that opponents of the Miami Trace program have advanced against sale of the bonds.

If the Supreme Court sustains the Miami Trace motion for striking ALL of the interveners' objections then, presumably, the requested mandamus order would be issued immediately, and the Miami Trace bond attorneys would proceed immediately to take the final steps necessary for getting the building program started.

If this should be the court's decision, then the Washington C. H. Board of Education would have no further reason to delay selling the $645,000 in bonds voted by city district electors for expansion of overcrowded elementary school facilities.

In a "friend of the court" pleading last May the city board voiced its opposition to the mandamus writ asked by the Miami Trace board and has contended that its attorneys have advised against selling its bonds at this time.

* * *

IF THE Supreme Court declines to strike one or more of the arguments advanced by the interveners, a date probably would be set for taking of oral testimony on the remaining point or points at issue.

Again, if the court should uphold the board clerk's amended answer, the entire bond issue could be invalidated.

Just how soon after the submission of final arguments the court will hand down a decision can only be a matter of speculation. The court did, however, rule on the citizens committee issue within 30 days after the oral arguments.

The complicated case opened with the Miami Trace board's request for the writ of mandamus, alleging that its clerk refused to take the required steps toward sale of the voted bonds. In order to set up the issues for a court decision, Mrs. Thompson replied that, in effect, the existence of the Fayette County Citizens Committee suspended the right of the Miami Trace board or any other board to issue bonds for capital improvements.

The board then filed a demurrer submitting the question of a citizens committee's powers and rights for determination. On June 19 the Supreme Court held that there was nothing to indicate that the General Assembly intended to hold the bond - issuing authority of a board of education in abeyance because of the existence of a citizens committee.

* * *

THIS WAS a key phase of the Miami Trace suit, and the court's decision on this issue was a victory for the Miami Trace board.

But the court did not grant the requested mandamus writ for sale of the Miami Trace bonds. Instead, it gave the board's clerk additional time to plead further. In other words it opened the way for the introduction of other issues bearing on the legality of the Miami Trace bond issue.

It was then that the six citizens were granted the status of interveners. The city board's connection with the action had ended with the submission of its brief as a friend of the court, a position which gave the city board no actual status as a party to the suit.

The interveners' pleading argued that the Miami Trace petition to the court was not in proper form; that the Miami Trace board had no right to ask a writ of mandamus to the extent requested; that proceedings relating to the bond issue after Nov. 4, 1955, were invalid because of the bringing of a suit for creation of a citizens committee; that school moneys were used for illegal advertising and publicity for the bond issue; that voters were "forcefully propagandized" and that there were threats of economic boycotts.

One argument holds that a portion of the proceeds from the bonds would be used in construction of a football stadium which, the interveners allege, would be an illegal expenditure.

There also is a blanket argument that "various actions of the relator (Miami Trace board) complained of constitute bad faith or an abuse of discretion on its part sufficient to invalidate said bond proceedings."

All of these arguments, the Miami Trace board charges, are either sham defenses, frivolous irrelevant, speculative or are matters already ruled upon by the court.

* * *

THE MIAMI TRACE board's motion to strike the interveners' arguments is accompanied by a brief prepared by Miss Grace Fern Heck, attorney for the board, which considers each of the 12 arguments separately and in detail, concluding with the statement that "it becomes obvious that the pleading was filed only for delay".

"There is no merit in this answer, and its sole purpose is to delay the final decision. . ."

The argument regarding construction of a football stadium, the brief answers by saying that the charge is speculative since the board has passed no resolution for the expenditure of money. "In the second place", the brief holds, "a stadium for school athletic purposes is a school building and there would be no illegal expenditure if one were built."

"By their intervention", the brief declares, "these parties are attempting to do indirectly what they cannot do directly, i. e. control the discretion of the relator (Miami Trace board)."

The Columbus law firms of Griffith and Griffith and Brownfield and Malone represent the six interveners. Richard Rankin represents the Miami Trace board clerk.

Levy's Store Changes Name To 'Nichols Men's Wear'

Levy's Men's Store has changed its name to Nichols Men's Wear, it was announced Wednesday by James Evans, store manager.

The name was changed to conform to the new ownership. The store's affiliation with the H. O. Nichols Co., large Toledo men's store, provides more merchandise lines and insures larger stocks and more immediate availability than ever before, Evans said.

The store will remain in its present location at 147 E. Court St., Harry Buchanan and Daisy Graves long-time employes, will continue with Nichols.

Evans, who lives at 1025 Washington Ave., came to Washington C. H. in 1955 to manage Levy's. Formerly with the Nichols Co. in Toledo, he is a member of the Chamber of Commerce, the Elks Lodge and the American Legion.

Gallipolis Jail Slaying Brings Man Death Verdict

GALLIPOLIS, Ohio (AP) — Rell Blankenship, 42, has been sentended to die in the electric chair at Onio Penitentiary Jan. 15 for the death of a fellow prisoner at the Gallia County jail here.

A jury of seven men and five women Wednesday night found Blankenship guilty of first degree murder in the fatal shooting Aug. 17 of Loren Borden, 26. Blankenship drew the mandatory death sentence from Common Pleas Judge Robert M. Betz after the jury failed to recommend mercy.

Gallia County Sheriff Osca Baird said Borden was shot shortly after Blankenship was thwarted in an escape attempt. Blankenship grabbed Baird's pistol, but before he could get away, Baird slammed the cell door shut. It was then that Blankenship fired at Borden, Baird said.

Blankenship never offered an explanation for firing at Borden, the sheriff said.

Ohio Bell Negotiations Delayed Until Tuesday

CLEVELAND (AP) — Talks between Ohio Bell Telephone Co. and the Communications Workers Union about a disputed back-to-work agreement were Wednesday recessed until Tuesday. Federal conciliator Thomas W. Robertson said he has other cases to work on, and can't devote all his time to the telephone dispute.

Court To Get Miami Trace Key Issues Tuesday

Another chapter—perhaps the concluding one—in Fayette County's long-standing school controversy will be opened next Tuesday in the Ohio Supreme Court.

The occasion will be the submission to the court of a pleading by the Miami Trace Board of Education which, should it be sustained by the high court, could result in the immediate issuance of a writ of mandamus ordering the board's clerk to advertise and sell $1,652,500 in building bonds approved by voters of that district last November.

The pleading is a part of a friendly suit brought last April by the Miami Trace board against its clerk, Mrs. Senath Thompson, in an effort to clarify the status of the bonds and to pave the way for a start on the district's building program which includes a modern high school at Eber.

Also to be submitted to the court is an amended answer filed by Mrs. Thompson which, to provide for final court determination, raises the question of the legality of the "purpose clause" in the board's bond legislation. This clause has been attacked by opponents of the bond issue as misleading and depriving electors of the right to vote on the various purposes of the bond issue.

Both matters are to be presented to the court as written briefs. There will be no oral arguments.

• • •

THE BOARD'S pleading contains a motion to strike from the files 12 arguments brought forward by a group of six Fayette County citizens who oppose issuance of a court order to sell the building bonds. The board alleges that the 12 arguments are false, frivolous and designed only to delay the building program.

The six citizens—County Treasurer Charles A. Fabb, Frank S. Jackson, Ralph R. Penn, Mrs. C. Elton Rhoad, Maynard A. Wilson and Will A. Rodgers—were granted permission to intervene in the Miami Trace suit as a means of bringing up for court consideration as many as possible of the arguments that opponents of the Miami Trace program have advanced against sale of the bonds.

If the Supreme Court sustains the Miami Trace motion for striking ALL of the interveners' objections then, presumably, the requested mandamus order would be issued immediately, and the Miami Trace bond attorneys would proceed immediately to take the final steps necessary for getting the building program started.

If this should be the court's decision, then the Washington C. H. Board of Education would have no further reason to delay selling the $645,000 in bonds voted by city district electors for expansion of overcrowded elementary school facilities.

In a "friend of the court" pleading last May, the city board voiced its opposition to the mandamus writ asked by the Miami Trace board and has contended that its attorneys have advised against selling its bonds at this time.

• • •

IF THE Supreme Court declines to strike one or more of the arguments advanced by the interveners, a date probably would be set for taking of oral testimony on the remaining point or points at issue.

Again, if the court should uphold the board clerk's amended answer, the entire bond issue could be invalidated.

Just how soon after the submission of final arguments the court will hand down a decision can only be a matter of speculation. The court did, however, rule on the citizens committee issue within 30 days after the oral arguments.

The complicated case opened with the Miami Trace board's request for the writ of mandamus, alleging that its clerk refused to take the required steps toward sale of the voted bonds. In order to set up the issues for a court decision, Mrs. Thompson replied that, in effect, the existence of the Fayette County Citizens Committee suspended the right of the Miami Trace board or any other board to issue bonds for capital improvements.

The board then filed a demurrer submitting the question of a citizens committee's powers and rights for determination. On June 19 the Supreme Court held that there was nothing to indicate that the General Assembly intended to hold the bond - issuing authority of a board of education in abeyance because of the existence of a citizens committee.

• • •

THIS WAS a key phase of the Miami Trace suit, and the court's decision on this issue was a victory for the Miami Trace board.

But the court did not grant the requested mandamus writ for sale of the Miami Trace bonds. Instead, it gave the board's clerk additional time to plead further. In other words it opened the way for the introduction of other issues bearing on the legality of the Miami Trace bond issue.

It was then that the six citizens were granted the status of interveners. The city board's connection with the action had ended with the submission of its brief as a friend of the court, a position which gave the city board no actual status as a party to the suit.

The interveners' pleading argued that the Miami Trace petition to the court was not in proper form; that the Miami Trace board had no right to ask a writ of mandamus to the extent requested; that proceedings relating to the bond issue after Nov. 4, 1955, were invalid because of the bringing of a suit for creation of a citizens committee; that school moneys were used for illegal advertising and publicity for the bond issue; that voters were "forcefully propagandized" and that there were threats of economic boycotts.

One argument holds that a portion of the proceeds from the bonds would be used in construction of a football stadium which, the interveners allege, would be an illegal expenditure.

There also is a blanket argument that "various actions of the relator (Miami Trace board) complained of constitute bad faith or an abuse of discretion on its part sufficient to invalidate said bond proceedings."

All of these arguments, the Miami Trace board charges, are either sham defenses, frivolous irrelevant, speculative or are matters already ruled upon by the court.

• • •

THE MIAMI TRACE board's motion to strike the interveners' arguments is accompanied by a brief prepared by Miss Grace Fern Heck, attorney for the board, which considers each of the 12 arguments separately and in detail, concluding with the statement that "it becomes obvious that the pleading was filed only for delay".

"There is no merit in this answer, and its sole purpose is to delay the final decision. . ."

The argument regarding construction of a football stadium, the brief answers by saying that the charge is speculative since the board has passed no resolution for the expenditure of money. "In the second place", the brief holds, "a stadium for school athletic purposes is a school building and there would be no illegal expenditure if one were built."

"By their intervention", the brief declares, "these parties are attempting to do indirectly what they cannot do directly, i. e. control the discretion of the relator (Miami Trace board)."

The Columbus law firms of Griffith and Griffith and Brownfield and Malone represent the six interveners. Richard Rankin represents the Miami Trace board clerk.

Levy's Men's Store has changed its name to Nichols Men's Wear, it was announced Wednesday by James Evans, store manager.

The name was changed to conform to the new ownership. The store's affiliation with the H. O. Nichols Co., large Toledo men's store, provides more merchandise lines and insures larger stocks and more immediate availability than ever before, Evans said.

The store will remain in its present location at 147 E. Court St., Harry Buchanan and Daisy Graves long-time employes, will continue with Nichols.

Evans, who lives at 1025 Washington Ave., came to Washington C. H. in 1955 to manage Levy's. Formerly with the Nichols Co. in Toledo, he is a member of the Chamber of Commerce, the Elks Lodge and the American Legion.

Gallipolis Jail Slaying Brings Man Death Verdict

GALLIPOLIS, Ohio (AP) — Rell Blankenship, 42, has been sentended to die in the electric chair at Ohio Penitentiary Jan. 15 for the death of a fellow prisoner at the Gallia County jail here.

A jury of seven men and five women Wednesday night found Blankenship guilty of first degree murder in the fatal shooting Aug. 17 of Loren Borden, 26. Blankenship drew the mandatory death sentence from Common Pleas Judge Robert M. Betz after the jury failed to recommend mercy.

Gallia County Sheriff Osca Baird said Borden was shot shortly after Blankenship was thwarted in an escape attempt. Blankenship grabbed Baird's pistol, but before he could get away, Baird slammed the cell door shut. It was then that Blankenship fired at Borden, Baird said.

Blankenship never offered an explanation for firing at Borden, the sheriff said.

Ohio Bell Negotiations Delayed Until Tuesday

CLEVELAND (AP) — Talks between Ohio Bell Telephone Co. and the Communications Workers Union about a disputed back-to-work agreement were Wednesday recessed until Tuesday. Federal conciliator Thomas W. Robertson said he has other cases to work on, and can't devote all his time to the telephone dispute.

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Consumers are borrowing larger sums and for different reasons than a few years back. They borrow for a longer time and delinquencies are rising slightly. On the other hand, there is a trend toward paying off the loans ahead of schedule.

These are findings of small loan companies across the nation. They deal with some 10 million families a year for a total of about five billion dollars.

Their reports jibe with the findings of the Federal Reserve Board on the total volume of personal loans, the kind made by these companies and by other financial firms. The board's figures put personal loans at 73¼ billion dollars almost one billion above the total a year ago.

The National Consumer Finance Assn. queried top men in 26 of its member companies in 17 states and the District of Columbia on changes in the last few years. All report a shift of emphasis from emergency or remedial borrowing to convenience or better living borrowing.

A typical report is that of a St. Louis loan company. In 1953 medical, dental and hospital bills accounted for 12 per cent of its loans. This year they are only 8 per cent of the total. In 1953 borrowing for necessities, such as food, clothing, fuel and rent, made up 14 per cent of the volume. Now the percentage is 10. But borrowing to buy new furniture and home appliances has gone up from 11 per cent in 1953 to 16 per cent today.

A small loan executive in Phoenix, Ariz., reports an "increased use of consumer loans for buying goods and services to improve living standards or to make life more satisfying and enjoyable. More loans are tied in with the workers' leisure time for travel, vacations, do-it-yourself projects and hobbies."

In Portsmouth, Va., an executive reports 40 per cent of the loans are for payments on house lots and home appliances. In Columbus, Ohio, half of the new loans are on merchant recommendation for the purchase of goods and services.

Inflation is credited with raising the amount of the average loan and also for lengthening the period for payment.

A midwest loan agency says that its average loan in 1955 was for $385. Last year it was $437 and this year $452.

In Los Angeles the average for loans rose from $367 in 1954 to $440 this year. A similar trend is reported by companies serving Louisiana, Indiana, Illinois and Kentucky.

In some states the contract length has risen from 12 to 18 months and in others from 18 to 24 months. But a trend toward repaying ahead of time is sighted in Chicago, the Pacific Northwest, the Northeast and Florida.

All agree that a slight rise in the delinquency rate has come with inflation, plus loss of overtime pay. But all insist it is not out of line or dangerous.

Open Door Policy In Clinics Eyed

COLUMBUS (AP)—Ohio is using a modified "open door" policy in its mental hospitals but will not entirely eliminate security provisions Dr. Robert A. Haines, director of the Ohio Dept. of Mental Hygiene and Correction says.

Dr. Haines said he would submit a report to the governor on the "open door" question but that he would not recommend removal of such security provisions as bars on windows.

"We cannot open all the wards," Dr. Haines declared. "We cannot let elderly people wander about; we have to protect them."

Africa Offers World's Most Unusual Hotel

By STEVE LIBBY
Central Press Assn.

THE TREETOPS HOTEL, a unique tropical jungle grandstand overlooking Africa's continual parade of wild life, has been reopened to public visitors in Kenya Colony, British East Africa.

Wantonly destroyed by Mau-Mau terrorists three year ago, the old and original Treetops Hotel made its permanent page in world history on Feb. 5, 1952.

For it was on that night that the tiny hotel housed two royal guests — Her Royal Highness Princess Elizabeth and her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh.

While the princess sat entranced enjoying the spectacle of the wild animals feeding below she unwittingly became Britain's queen upon the death of her father, King George VI.

Throughout the MauMau emergency, the area surrounding Treetops was closed to the public. Six months ago these restrictions were lifted and work was begun on a bigger and better Treetops.

With an imaginative design and attractive new furnishings, the new Treetops was constructed in the same clearing in the Aberdare forest reserve by Nyeri Water Hole, but on a new site 150 yards away from the fig tree which housed the original hotel. The new site is around the western side of the pool where native animals come to drink and feed.

* * *

GUESTS may now watch and take pictures of the animals from a vantage point only 41 feet away as the beasts of the jungle come to drink and to eat and salt sprinkled by the water hole. Too, from this flat top roof guests enjoy a magnificent view of the forest, the Aberdares and the snows of Mount Kenya in the distance.

This most unusual hostelry boasts hot and cold running water, electric lights and warm, comfortable beds. However, despite these up-to-date luxuries and comforts, the new treehouse has retained the charm and quaintness of the original Treetops Hotel.

Despite sound-proofings, guests wear slippers to avoid noise and are warned by constant reminders that the slightest noise startles wild game, and they are advised that silence is the best guarantee of perfection in the "Big Show."

* * *

THE STRUCTURE is perfectly safe, for it is supported by massive cedar poles and steel guys strung under the direction of Sir Geoffrey Havilland, an expert known the world over for his genius supervising aircraft stress and strain.

Treetops was built as a forest "annex" of the spacious Outspan hotel at Nyeri, east of Lake Victoria and not far from Kenya's capital city, Nairobi. Capt. Eric Sherbrooke, owner of the Outspan, who build Treetops hotel, arranges for bookings at his forest "annex" and supplies the safari trucks and hunter-escorts for the 10-mile trip through the forest.

The official re-opening ceremonies for the new Treetops included a press gathering. These representatives of the newspapers of Africa and the world were treated to a fine floorshow. Nature's unrehearsed production starred elephants and rhinos, a chorus line of gazelles and bush-buck, and forest hogs and wart-hogs were "extras."

* * *

THE STAGE was a circular glade in the forest corridor, and the African moon supplied the stage lighting. Gentle assistance ficial "moon," which is always directed to the saltlick spot where the animals congregate for their evening snack.

The curtain-raisers? A troop of baboons who make frequent and mischievous raids on the Treetops' kitchen.

Suddenly, a magnificent herd of 27 elephants appeared, and the big tuskers circled the glade before coming in procession to lick the salt directly below the house.

Adding drama to the scene were truculent, bad-tempered rhinos. Guests watched from comfortable armchairs on the observation balcony or the starlit roof, high above—the steps to Treetops Hotel pulled up like a drawbridge for the safety of the visitors once they are safely inside.

* * *

DURING the construction of the new Treetops, it was feared by some that the noises of the carpentering might frighten the animals away for good. Instead, the jungle creatures displayed great curiosity and interest—and the new hotel is renewing all promises with its variety and abundance of game.

The hotel can handle up to 14 visitors at one time, and bookings have already been accepted by Treetops from several Americans who were enchanted by the 10-room structure.

11-Year-Olds' Marriage Studied

COLUMBUS (AP)—Can an 11-year-old girl in Ohio be legally married?

The common pleas court in Crawford County says she cannot. The appellate court says she can.

The common pleas court convicted Carl and Katherine Gans of causing the delinquency of their adopted 11-year-old daughter by permitting here to marry Stanley Thorn in 1955 at Morgantown, W. Va. The appellate court later ruled the marriage valid.

Wednesday the Ohio Supreme Court agreed to review the appellate court's decision.

Lebanon Prison Construction To Start Oct. 16

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Work will begin Oct. 16 on the new 12 million dollar Southern Ohio Reformatory near Lebanon in Warren County.

Gov. C. William O'Neill, who will take part in ground-breaking ceremonies before actual work begins, said the state wants to speed construction of the institution because of overcrowded prison conditions.

The reformatory will house 1,500 inmates and is scheduled to be finished in 1960. However, from 700 to 800 inmates will start using the institution in 1959, when enough of the institution is finished to keep them under lock and key.

The first construction phase will cost $3,175,786. Bids for the second phase will be received in November.

Reason for Borrowing Varies; Larger Sums Sought, Survey Shows

NEW YORK (AP) — Consumers are borrowing larger sums and for different reasons than a few years back. They borrow for a longer time and delinquencies are rising slightly. On the other hand, there is a trend toward paying off the loans ahead of schedule.

These are findings of small loan companies across the nation. They deal with some 10 million families a year for a total of about five billion dollars.

In Portsmouth, Va., an executive reports 40 per cent of the loans are for payments on house lots and home appliances. In Columbus, Ohio, half of the new loans are on merchant recommendation for the purchase of goods and services.

Inflation is credited with raising the amount of the average loan and also for lengthening the period for payment.

A midwest loan agency says that its average loan in 1955 was for $386. Last year it was $437 and this year $452.

In Los Angeles the average for loans rose from $367 in 1954 to $440 this year. A similar trend is reported by companies serving Louisiana, Indiana, Illinois and Kentucky.

In some states the contract length has risen from 12 to 18 months and in others from 18 to 24 months. But a trend toward repaying ahead of time is sighted in Chicago, the Pacific Northwest, the Northeast and Florida.

All agree that a slight rise in the delinquency rate has come with inflation, plus loss of overtime pay. But all insist it is not out of line or dangerous.

Open Door Policy In Clinics Eyed

COLUMBUS (AP)—Ohio is using a modified "open door" policy in its mental hospitals but will not entirely eliminate security provisions Dr. Robert A. Haines, director of the Ohio Dept. of Mental Hygiene and Correction says.

Dr. Haines said he would submit a report to the governor on the "open door" question but that he would not recommend removal of such security provisions as bars on windows.

"We cannot open all the wards," Dr. Haines declared. "We cannot let elderly people wander about; we have to protect them."

Africa Offers World's Most Unusual Hotel

By STEVE LIBBY
Central Press Assn.

THE TREETOPS HOTEL, a unique tropical jungle grandstand overlooking Africa's continual parade of wild life, has been reopened to public visitors in Kenya Colony, British East Africa.

Wantonly destroyed by Mau-Mau terrorists three year ago, the old and original Treetops Hotel made its permanent page in world history on Feb. 5, 1952.

For it was on that night that the tiny hotel housed two royal guests — Her Royal Highness Princess Elizabeth and her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh.

While the princess sat entranced enjoying the spectacle of the wild animals feeding below she unwittingly became Britain's queen upon the death of her father, King George VI.

Throughout the Mau-Mau emergency, the area surrounding Treetops was closed to the public. Six months ago these restrictions were lifted and work was begun on a bigger and better Treetops.

With an imaginative design and attractive new furnishings, the new Treetops was constructed in the same clearing in the Aberdare forest reserve by Nyeri Water Hole, but on a new site 150 yards away from the fig tree which housed the original hotel. The new site is around the western side of the pool where native animals come to drink and feed.

* * *

GUESTS may now watch and take pictures of the animals from a vantage point only 41 feet away as the beasts of the jungle come to drink and to eat and salt sprinkled by the water hole. Too, from this flat top roof guests enjoy a magnificent view of the forest, the Aberdares and the snows of Mount Kenya in the distance.

This most unusual hostelry boasts hot and cold running water, electric lights and warm, comfortable beds. However, despite these up-to-date luxuries and comforts, the new treehouse has retained the charm and quaintness of the original Treetops Hotel.

Despite sound-proofings, guests wear slippers to avoid noise and are warned by constant reminders that the slightest noise startles wild game, and they are advised that silence is the best guarantee of perfection in the "Big Show."

* * *

THE STRUCTURE is perfectly safe, for it is supported by massive cedar poles and steel guys strung under the direction of Sir Geoffrey Havilland, an expert known the world over for his genius supervising aircraft stress and strain.

Treetops was built as a forest "annex" of the spacious Outspan hotel at Nyeri, east of Lake Victoria and not far from Kenya's capital city, Nairobi. Capt. Eric Sherbrooke, owner of the Outspan, who build Treetops hotel, arranges for bookings at his forest "annex" and supplies the safari trucks and hunter-escorts for the 10-mile trip through the forest.

The official re-opening ceremonies for the new Treetops included a press gathering. These representatives of the newspapers of Africa and the world were treated to a fine floorshow. Nature's unrehearsed production starred elephants and rhinos, a chorus line of gazelles and bush-buck, and forest hogs and wart-hogs were "extras."

* * *

THE STAGE was a circular glade in the forest corridor, and the African moon supplied the stage lighting. Gentle assistance ficial "moon," which is always directed to the saltlick spot where the animals congregate for their evening snack.

The curtain-raisers? A troop of baboons who make frequent and mischievous raids on the Treetops' kitchen.

Suddenly, a magnificent herd of 27 elephants appeared, and the big tuskers circled the glade before coming in procession to lick the salt directly below the house.

Adding drama to the scene were truculent, bad-tempered rhinos. Guests watched from comfortable armchairs on the observation balcony or the starlit roof, high above—the steps to Treetops Hotel pulled up like a drawbridge for the safety of the visitors once they are safely inside.

* * *

DURING the construction of the new Treetops, it was feared by some that the noises of the carpentering might frighten the animals away for good. Instead, the jungle creatures displayed great curiosity and interest—and the new hotel is renewing all promises with its variety and abundance of game.

The hotel can handle up to 14 visitors at one time, and bookings have already been accepted by Treetops from several Americans who were enchanted by the 10-room structure.

11-Year-Olds' Marriage Studied

COLUMBUS (AP)—Can an 11-year-old girl in Ohio be legally married?

The common pleas court in Crawford County says she cannot. The appellate court says she can.

The common pleas court convicted Carl and Katherine Gans of causing the delinquency of their adopted 11-year-old daughter by permitting here to marry Stanley Thorn in 1955 at Morgantown, W. Va. The appellate court later ruled the marriage valid.

Wednesday the Ohio Supreme Court agreed to review the appellate court's decision.

Lebanon Prison Construction To Start Oct. 16

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Work will begin Oct. 16 on the new 12 million dollar Southern Ohio Reformatory near Lebanon in Warren County.

Gov. C. William O'Neill, who will take part in ground-breaking ceremonies before actual work begins, said the state wants to speed construction of the institution because of overcrowded prison conditions.

The reformatory will house 1,500 inmates and is scheduled to be finished in 1960. However, from 700 to 800 inmates will start using the institution in 1959, when enough of the institution is finished to keep them under lock and key.

The first construction phase will cost $3,175,786. Bids for the second phase will be received in November.

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY

Fayette County was not always as free of poisonous snakes as it has been during the last half century and early settlers found all kinds of snakes native to Ohio, very abundant up to about 100 years ago.

Rattlesnakes and copperheads, which are rarely heard of in Fayette County, except the little Prairie rattlers after which Rattlesnake Creek was named, were common in those days.

Both of these deadly reptiles were formerly so abundant, that pioneers kept a close lookout for them when they went into the woods, or when walking about the premises and along the mud roads at night.

Heavy leather boots, worn by all early pioneers winter and summer, saved the lives of many a frontiersman when a timber rattler or copperhead struck him.

In addition to the rattlers and copperheads, there were other snakes, some of them of great size.

In one instance according to folklore, a man discovered a huge snake along a four foot pole fence, and when he threw a club and struck it, the snake bowed its back up as high as the fence, and the man, not having his muzzle-loader rifle with him, fled in a hurry.

When he returned to shoot the snake it had vanished into the forest.

History states that in the 1830s rattlesnakes were so numerous in a 50 acre wheat field near Yellowbud in Ross County that a snake hunt was organized, and 111 of the rattlers were killed. Then the wheat was cut.

LONG GOURD VINE

The North Fork of Paint Creek valley produces other things of an extraordinary nature, in addition to mammoth grapevines such as I told you about recently, one that was 16 feet in circumferences.

This time it is a gourd vine, containing 29 gourds, growing at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Rowland, White Rd.

The gourd vine, between 25 and 30 feet in length, has climbed a telephone wire and gone around part of the back side and one end of the house.

The gourds are shaped something like an apple, only larger than the ordinary fruit, and the vine attracts much attention by its great length and large number of gourds it contains.

When the wind blows the gourds thump against the side of the house "like ghosts."

In addition to the main vine, there are several shorter vines some of which are bearing gourds.

While inspecting the vine, I noted that Mrs. Rowland had several large plants of garden huckleberries, and several kinds of cockscomb, always at its best in early fall.

SURVEYORS BUSY

Surveyors were busy this week running a survey from west of Mt. Sterling to Bloomingburg, for the new pipe line of the Ohio Fuel Gas Co., which will tie in with the line serving Bloomingburg, this city, Sabina, Wilmington and Greenfield, and provide a greater flow of gas into this territory.

Announcement of the project was made some time ago, and indications are that the line will be constructed this fall. Connection will be made with the big pipelines of the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. west of Mt. Sterling and line of The Dayton Power and Light Co. immediately north of Bloomingburg.

Surveyors were working on a route some distance east of the Lawrence Grim home, on Harrison Rd., west of Madison Mills, and thence southward toward Bloomingburg.

CONCORD AVENUE

Did you ever hear of Concord Avenue in Washington C. H.?

It is probably the shortest and least known street in the entire city, and has never been extended to connect two streets.

Concord Ave. is located immediately east of the county garage on the north side of Mulberry St., Millwood, and extends a half block northward toward Jupiter St.

It was laid out when Millwood Addition was platted, but is almost a lost street.

FRIENDS OF FARMERS

Recently I heard an authority on the subject state that every toad is worth more than its weight in gold to the farmer or gardner.

The reason is that the common garden toad eats about 10,000 insects in three months, and most of these insects are of a kind that are either harmful to crops or have no apparent useful purpose.

Toads are highly essential to the "balance of nature".

The same autnocity said that barn owls are of greater benefit in eliminating rocents than several cats, and that if one or two turkeys are allowed the run of the garden, they will rid the garden of harmful insects as they eat more insects than anything else.

Well, there are a lot of friends of the farmer, including most of the birds, and some of the wild animals, but one friend, and a highly important one which, it is claimed, is killed by poison sprays on weeds, etc., and chemicals, is the common angle worm, or fishing worm, which is a real soil conditioner and does much toward cultivating the crops, as well as fertilizing them.

There are many little industries scattered throughout the state where angle worms are grown and distributed as soil builders and conditioners. For soil without angle worms has hard going to maintain its fertility and mellow condition.

Clevelander Admits Testimony Is False

DETROIT (AP)—A Cleveland man who said he wanted to clear his conscience has told police that he, rather than the man he testified against, is responsible for the death of Lemmie Seabrook in May, 1956.

Smith was a prosecution witness in the trial 16 months ago of Willie Brown, 29, charged with murdering Seabrook. Brown was acquitted. Seabrook, 27, was beaten to death in a fight.

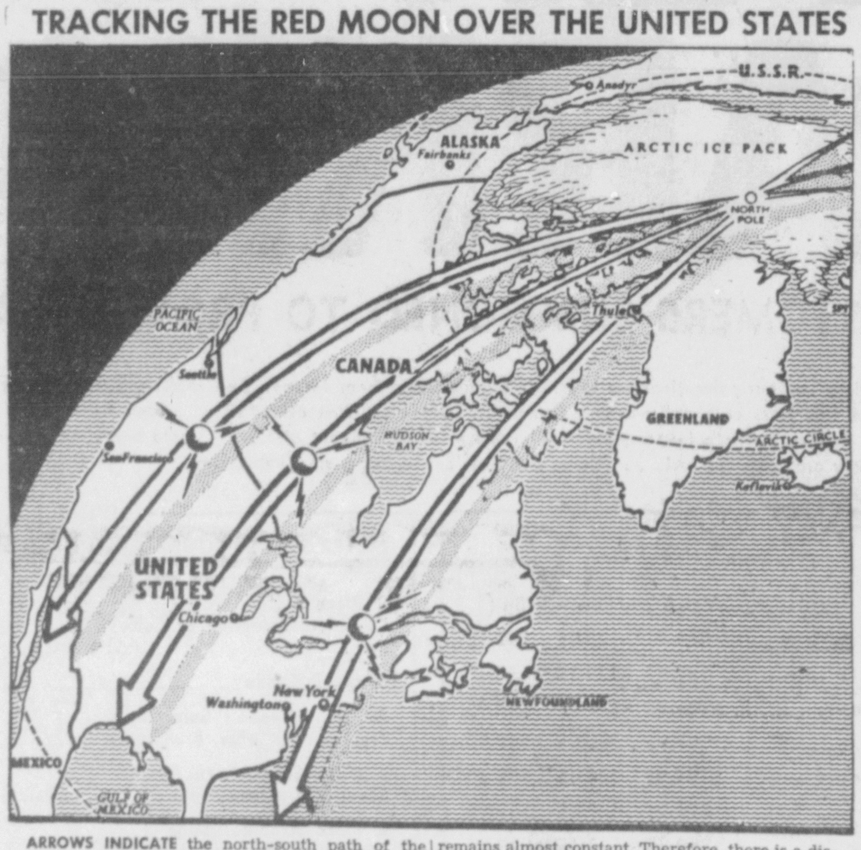
TRACKING THE RED MOON OVER THE UNITED STATES



ARROWS INDICATE the north-south path of the Soviet satellite as it whirls over the United States. The earth rotates in a west-to-east direction at 1,000 miles an hour, while the path of the satellite remains almost constant. Therefore, there is a displacement westward with respect to a given point every time the miniature moon passes around the globe every 96 minutes. (International)

Only Workers Are Eligible For Disability Benefits

"Disability insurance (age 50 through 64) is for workers and no one else," a social security official points out.

Referring to the new disability benefit under the Social Security Act, Elmer H. Biedenholz, Chillicothe, district manager said that inquirers at his office show a common tendency to think that it also means benefits for family members. That is not the case.

Disability benefits are workers' benefits only, Biedenholz explained.

This is different from the case of the worker who receives old-age insurance, where the wife or dependent husband may also become entitled to payments as well as the child under age 18 or the disabled child over age 18. In the disability benefits setup there is no way in which any dependent can qualify.

* * *

WHEN A PERSON already drawing disability insurance benefits reaches age 65, those payments stop and will normally be replaced, without interruption, by old-age insurance benefits.

At that point, the family members-wives, husbands, and children - may qualify for monthly checks along with the worker's own. The monthly payments for disabled children just mentioned are for such children of a worker who has qualified for payments himself by reason of age, or who has died.

The amount of a disability insurance benefit is exactly the same as the benefit at 65 for that same worker. The same computation is used for both.

* * *

OCCASSIONALLY, Biedenholz reported, the Chillicothe social security office comes across the case of an old-age insurance beneficiary over 65 who is under a disability which came on before age 65. In those instances, an application may bring a "disability freeze" of the credits on the worker's social security account, effective at the time the ailment first prevented the person from working.

This, in turn, will mean an increase in his old-age benefit rate. This increase in only a change in the old-age insurance payment rate and is not a disability insurance benefit.

The Chillicothe social security office is at 32 W. Main St. and is open from 8:45 a. m. to 4:45 p. m. Monday through Friday.

Important Role in Play Goes to Child Actor

"The lad pivots focal plot developments in "The Dark at the Top of the Stairs." The William Inge drama stars Teresa Wright and Pat Hingle, is being directed by Elia Kazan. It opens Dec. 5.

Master Saari's only previous stage service has been as an understudy in one Broadway comedy, a bit role in a revival, but has had a number of parts in television drama and variety shows.

Only Workers Are Eligible For Disability Benefits

"Disability insurance (age 50 through 64) is for workers and no one else," a social security official points out.

Referring to the new disability benefit under the Social Security Act, Elmer H. Biedenholz, Chillicothe, district manager said that inquirers at his office show a common tendency to think that it also means benefits for family members. That is not the case.

Disability benefits are workers' benefits only, Biedenholz explained.

This is different from the case of the worker who receives old-age insurance, where the wife or dependent husband may also become entitled to payments as well as the child under age 18 or the disabled child over age 18. In the disability benefits setup there is no way in which any dependent can qualify.

• • •

WHEN A PERSON already drawing disability insurance benefits reaches age 65, those payments stop and will normally be replaced, without interruption, by old-age insurance benefits.

At that point, the family members-wives, husbands, and children - may qualify for monthly checks along with the worker's own. The monthly payments for disabled children just mentioned are for such children of a worker who has qualified for payments himself by reason of age, or who has died.

The amount of a disability insurance benefit is exactly the same as the benefit at 65 for that same worker. The same computation is used for both.

• • •

OCCASSIONALLY, Biedenholz reported, the Chillicothe social security office comes across the case of an old-age insurance beneficiary over 65 who is under a disability which came on before age 65. In those instances, an application may bring a "disability freeze" of the credits on the worker's social security account, effective at the time the ailment first prevented the person from working.

This, in turn, will mean an increase in his old-age benefit rate. This increase in only a change in the old-age insurance payment rate and is not a disability insurance benefit.

The Chillicothe social security office is at 32 W. Main St. and is open from 8:45 a. m. to 4:45 p. m. Monday through Friday.

Important Role in Play Goes to Child Actor

"The lad pivots focal plot developments in "The Dark at the Top of the Stairs." The William Inge drama stars Teresa Wright and Pat Hingle, is being directed by Elia Kazan. It opens Dec. 5.

Master Saari's only previous stage service has been as an understudy in one Broadway comedy, a bit role in a revival, but has had a number of parts in television drama and variety shows.

Before and After in Little Rock

Sept. 23 Recalled as Day Of Disgrace in Arkansas

Editor's Note: Following is the fourth in a series of five articles outlining the conditions in strife-to n Little Rock Ark., by a Pulitzer Prize-winning reporter who has been a close observer of the scene.

By RELMAN MORIN

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—On the morning of Sept. 23, a Monday 99 per cent of the people of Little Rock were nowhere near Central High School.

That was the day when a relatively few people, about 400 in all, beat up Negroes and newspapermen, fought with police, raged in the streets, and screamed to the children inside the high school, "Come out! Don't stay in there with the niggers!"

1. Brought shame and disgrace to a community of good people.

2. Fashioned a deadly propaganda weapon for the Communists to use against the United States in Asia and Africa, among the black, yellow and brown races this country wants as friends.

3. Rescued Gov. Orval Faubus, who had predicted violence, from what had appeared to be the role of a false prophet.

4. Figuratively tarred and feathered those people, on both sides of the Mason-Dixon Line, who are patiently searching for the answers to the immense problems that sprang from the Supreme Court ruling that segregated schools are unconstitutional.

Only a handful are responsible for this and more.

The rest of Little Rock was in its homes and offices and places of business as on any other day.

This is not to say that they approve integration. They don't. They overwhelmingly oppose integration and want no part of it.

But they also believe in obeying the law. And there is the dilemma. It is not easy to obey a command that rowels your deepest sensibilities, nor readily comply with an order that you feel, in blood and fibre, is wrong.

Today, many people in Little Rock are sick and tired of "the mess," as they call it. They are prepared to accept integration simply as the the lesser of two evils.

Who are the people who gathered in front of Central High School that morning?

There were some hard-nosed haters, looking for Negroes and "Yankee reporters" to slug—provided the odds were right.

Some were merely curious, waiting to see what would happen. And some were crusading for kicks.

Finally, there were the women. They were the most frantic of all, the noisiest, the most vulgar. Apparently average housewives suddenly turned into harpies, screeching, crying, tearing their hair.

The police kept control inside the barricades. But they did next to nothing about the beatings that took place outside. First, the crowd attacked four Negro newspapermen. Later, they turned on white reporters an photographers. During all this, there were policemen close at hand.

On Tuesday, Sept, 24, the electrifying news came that President Eisenhower had put the National Guardsmen under federal orders, and that units of the 101st Airborne were on the way to the city.

Shortly after dark, a convoy of main street bridge from the opposite side of the Arkansas River. People stared in utter disbelief.

There was every form of reaction in Little Rock—surprise, dismay, relief, blood-hot indignation.

The next day, Wednesday Sept. 25, the paratroopers' officers quickly and efficiently demonstrated to the smaller crowds again gathered at the high school that they meant business.

The soldiers broke up two groups. One man suffered a scalp wound when he tried to grab a paratrooper's rifle. Another was jabbed in the arm with a bayonet.

After that, there was no serious trouble.

Then the campaign began to induce as many parents as possible, by threats or persuasion, to keep their children out of school. It appears to have failed.

Sixty-nine students were suspended last weekend. Most had joined in the walkout. Some had attacked two Negro boys. Supt. of Schools Virgil Blossom is prepared to crack down hard, he says.

But what of the future? The troops won't stay in Little Rock forever. What then?

City Annexes Land Bought for Cemetery Expansion

A 9½-acre tract of land bordering on Washington Ave., which City Council purchased more than four months ago to provide for necessary expansion of Washington Cemetery, was formally annexed to the city at a meeting of Council Wednesday night.

The land, purchased from Bud and Mary Brownell for $10,000, adjoins the present cemetery on on the west. Council's action marked the final step in the annexation procedure which included approval by Fayette County commissioners.

The city bought the tract—the only suitable expansion area adjoining the cemetery—to insure that it would be available when needed. Council acted with the assurance that Union Township would pay two-fifths on the purchase price and improvement cost.

An $8,000 bond issure for that purpose will be submitted to Union Township voters at the November election.

* * *

IN OTHER ACTION Wednesday night, Council instructed City Solicitor William Junk to draw up legislation for the installation of a street light in Gardner Village, the new colony for retired ministers east of Circle Ave., and two new lights on Eastview Road, part of a new housing development on the city's east side off Washington Ave.

Council also instructed City Manager James F. Parkinson to investigate trailer ordinances adopted in other cities. This was the aftermath of a discussion during which it was pointed out that there have been complaints regarding the placement of house trailers on certain lots in residential areas.

Councilmen indicated that the city should have closer supervision over such installations.

Only formal regulation at present is in the case of trailers used as permanent homes. In these instances regular building permits are required.

* * *

THE LEGISLATORS also discussed in some detail the possibility of securing a better fire insurance rating for the city—a step which would represent a major saving to property owners.

The city manager told Council he will confer with Fire Chief George Hall on the possibility of establishing an intensive training program for regular and volunteer firemen. Supervised training is one step toward improving rate classifications.

To secure a change in rating the city probably will have to replace the present oldest pumper with a new piece of equipment. This would mean an estimated expenditure of possible $25,000—a sum not now available for that purpose.

Also to be considered is what effect additional department manpower would have on the rate classification.

Council heard a report from Municipal Court listing collections of $6,253.18 during September. City Auditor Marie Melvin submitted the third quarter financial report listing general fund receipts of $156,089.75 and disbursements of $143,637.39. The general fund balance as of Sept. 30 was $26,169.62.

Cemetery Financial Report Submitted

There was a balance of $2,645.96 in the Washington Cemetery treasury on Sept. 30, according to the financial report for the third quarter read at a joint meeting of cemetery trustees and City Council Wednesday night.

The cemetery is operated jointly by the City of Washington C. H. and Union Township.

The report listed receipts of $6,358.30 during the three-month period which opened with a balance of $1,247.26 on hand. Disbursements during the quarter totaled $4,969.60.

RECEIPTS included the following items: Sale of lots, $2,896; sale of walkways, $87.30; interments, $1,806; use of tent, $20; use of lowering device, $10; sale of vaults, $245; sales tax, $13.92; sale of lot markers, $203; grave repair, $20; urn care, $139; florist supplies, $26.15; trust funds, $52.66; foundations, $274; taxes, $220.27; pouring curb, $26; miscellaneous, $285.

Expenditures were: Salary and labor, $3,210.80; withholding tax, $338.90; trustee service, $75; office supplies, $9; gas and oil, $66.98; equipment maintenance, $63.81; utilities, $69.59; repurchase of lots $450; roadway maintenance, $18.14; tools and supplies, $16.74; foundation materials, $124.42; filling urns (trust funds) $88; lot markers, $108; vaults, $236.99; insurance, $34.23; mowing weeds, $15; miscellaneous, $34.

* * *

THE REPORT listed 34 interments in Washington Cemetery during the quarter and one each in St. Colmar's and Sugar Creek Baptist cemeteries.

The report was signed by Ben Norris, chairman of the board of trustees, and John Spangler, superintendant.

J. H. McWilliams, also a member of the board, attended the meeting.

Gun Found in Kent Murder; Man's Confession Denied

RAVENNA, Ohio (AP)—The gun that brought 21-year-old Roland S. Metcalf into the investigation of the slaying of John DuBois has been found.

Police said Wednesday the .38 caliber gun was recovered from a Twinsburg man. They said a .32 caliber bullet killed DuBois in his bookstore near the Kent State University campus last week.

An attorney for Metcalf said Wednesday the youth has repudiated the confession he made Friday. He said the confession was obtained through police brutality.

Meanwhile, Akron police said they found witnesses who corroborated Metcalf's story that he was at a football game the night of Oct. 2, when the 67-year-old bookseller was shot to death.

Metcalf was brought into the case when a 14-year-old Kent boy told Akron police that he feared one of 10 guns he stole in July might have been used against DuBois. He said one of the guns had gone to Metcalf.

Akron police chief Harry Whiddon said Detective Capt. Carroll Cutright has been assigned to investigate charges that two veteran Akron policemen roughed Metcalf up in questioning him. No charges have been placed.

Cutright said he has "never heard anything against" either of the two and added that they were not present when Metcalf made his confession.

"Metcalf himself has not complained of being beaten," said Cutright. Two newsmen who said they saw Metcalf slapped while being questioned at Kent were responsible for the investigation being started.

The captain said the two officers were not in Kent more than an hour "and they did not question him (Metcalf) more than 15 minutes. When they did question him it was while five other men were present."

Over-All Cooperation Said Reason for Ohio's Fine Roads

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The federal highway program for Ohio is progressing quickly and successfully, thanks to cooperation among city, state and federal agencies, says Ohio's highway chief, Charles M. Noble.

Noble stressed the importance of cooperation in a talk at Wednesday's statewide conference on the 1,535 miles of federal interstate roads scheduled for Ohio during the next 13 years.

The Highway Department's public affairs officers improve cooperation, Noble said, by looking into local problems and explaining the state's views to the communities involved.

"Then we can go to public hearings on road improvements with a united front," he said.

"It takes time for a city to develop a coordinated transportation plan because everyone wants the highway but on someone else's street," he said. "The State Highway Department needs the help and cooperation of cities in planning."

The state highway chief said his department hopes to build roads that will help industrial plants solve their traffic problems and thus make them more attractive as working places.

Turning to Highway Department accomplishments, Noble said 487 contracts for 114 million dollars worth of road improvements have been awarded. They include a huge resurfacing program to protect roads during the winter, he said.

"Of the 114 million dollars, only 32 million has gone into the interstate system," Noble said. "We've been straightening curves, widening roads and building new urban and secondard highways and bridges throughout the state."

Others addressing the conference were P. E. Masheter, deputy director of the Highway Department in charge of design and construction, and J. H. Ehlers, assistant Urban Renewal commissioner.

Earlier, delegates heard a four-member panel discuss state and local participation in the federal highway program.

AUCTION
FAYETTE CO. FARM - 167.5 ACRES
MONDAY, OCT. 21,
ON THE PREMISES AT 1:30 P. M.

Located 9 miles northeast of Washington C. H., 2 miles south of Madison Mills, 7 miles north of New Holland, 5 miles east of Bloomingburg on the Post Road, 1 mile east of CCC Highway (Federal Rt. 62) in Madison township, Fayette Co., Ohio.

Improvements — Good modern frame house of 5 rooms (3 rooms and bath down and 2 up) basement with Holland furnace; 2 water pressure systems for well and cistern; 93 gal. elec. water heater; Storm doors and windows. Nice lawn with maple shade trees.

This is a nice level farm (not flat) with good tile drainage. Soil is approx. one-third black and two-thirds deep fertile clay in a high state of cultivation having been operated as a livestock farm and properly rotated. Four wells furnish ample water supply at all times. Here is a nice clean fertile farm with good fences and ready to produce. We have quit farming and are selling because of ill health.

Sells on premises at 1:30 P. M. Monday, Oct. 21st.

TERMS—$5,000.00 deposit at time of sale; balance Jan. 2, 1958 at which time warranty deed will be delivered. Possession of barn and fields Jan. 2, 1958 and full possession March 1, 1958. Purchaser may have privilege of fall seeding and plowing. For further particulars contact—

Strange Noise, Indeed; Police Have To Agree

HOBBS, N. M. (AP)—"I've been hearing a very peculiar noise out here," a woman caller told police, "and I wish you would come out and find out what's making it."

Police found a cageful of lions belonging to a circus. They were asking for their evening meal in the only way lions can express themselves—by roaring.

Church Membership More than Reported

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Although official figures show only 103 million Americans are affiliated with churches, a leading religious journal says that the number actually surpasses this by 25 million—for a total of 128 million out of the country's 170-million population. The magazine, Presbyterian Life, in a detailed analysis of membership computation systems, says additional church-affiliated persons are under age 13, but not counted under policies of some denominations.

CAA Woman Executive Keeps Office High Above Clouds

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON (AP) —Blanche Noyes gave up a career behind the footlights 28 years ago to become one of aviation's leading ladies.

Now in her challenging real-life role as chief of the air marking staff of the Civil Aeronautics Administration, she is the only woman federal executive flying government aircraft. Though she spends a lot of her time in the air, flying alone, flight-checking air markers or plotting new skyways, she says she's never lonely.

"It's the only time I'm completely relaxed and happy," she told me, "I wouldn't change jobs for anything. It gets more interesting as time goes on."

Since 1936, when the program started, Mrs. Noyes has directed the placing of some 45,000 air markers (mostly on rooftops) to identify towns and nearby airports for pilots, and many have credited them with saving their lives. Still, Mrs. Noyes says she sees great room for improvement.

"Specifically, I would like to see every town and community of 75,000 to 100,000 in the United States air marked," she said. "CAA is doing everything it can to eliminate accidents. There isn't a cloud that hasn't been turned to cut down flying hazards and improve the airways to make flying completely safe."

She was particularly excited over a new luminous paint developed by a firm working cooperatively on experimental markers. She says it is now being used by the military at a number of bases to put on training aircraft to eliminate air collisions.

Mrs. Noyes, a handsome, fashion-conscious woman with a special yen for hats and jewelry was taught to fly in exactly 3 hours and 45 minutes by her late husband, Dewey L. Noyes, an airmail pilot. She got her present job through personal endorsement by Amelia Earhart, whom she met in 1929 when they were competitors in the first women's air derby flying from Santa Monica to Cleveland.

She was named "Woman of the Year in Aviation" in 1954 and is a past international president of the 99s Inc., world-wide women's flyers' club. She has held the east-to-west speed record for women and competed against men to be co-winner of the trans-continental Bendix Air Race.

Hearing Is Recessed In Death of of Robber

WARREN (AP)—Municipal Judge James A. Ravella Tuesday recessed until Monday a preliminary hearing for Glen Dolvin, 29 Youngstown, charged with first-degree murder in the shooting of Andrew Gerlach, also 29, of Youngstown. The judge said he will rule Monday on the defense's request for dismissal for lack of evidence. Dolvin is accused of killing Gerlach after an argument over division of loot they allegedly obtained in a bank robbery.

British Fire A-Bomb

MARALINGA, Australia (AP) — Britain exploded a balloon-suspended atomic bomb about 1,000 feet over the semiarid Maralinga Wastes today.

It was Britain's first test of an atomic weapon from balloons and its 15th atomic weapon explosion. It completed a three-test series begun five weeks ago. This one looked like one of the mightiest atomic blasts the British have set off.

Central Press Assn.

JACKSON, Miss. — Many visitors to Mississippi are first confused and then surprised by what seems to be a contradiction. Who can blame them? — where else will you find automation and electronic marvels side by side with ante - bellum mansions and magnolia-strewn traditions.

It comes as something of a shock to Yankee eyes to see the same young women who by day operate highly complex production equipment in 1957 - style streamlined industries, tripping gaily by night through the intricate patterns of a Nineteenth Century quadrille in one of the many costume balls and traditional festivals so often held in Mississippi.

In modern Mississippi the old and the new not only meet, but they sometimes trip over each other.

However, this is not surprising when you know the reason. Mississippi has expanded so quickly industrially that other things have just not caught up as yet. As Henry Maddox, executive director of the Mississippi Agricultural and Industrial Board, puts it, "We've been going from the ox cart to the Jet Age in a hurry."

All this is no accident, of course. It's largely the result of the industrialization program, "Operation Jet Age," being agressively waged by the agricultural and industrial board to attract new industry to the Magnolia State, and sparkplugged by Mississippi's Gov. James P. Coleman.

• • •

COLORFUL examples of "old South" and Jet Age contrasts can be found all over the state.

The Biloxi lighthouse, built in 1848 while James K. Polk was President, still wears its coat of black paint, said to have been adopted after Lincoln's assassination as a tribute to his genius. However, the lighthouse today is lit by automatic electric equipment instead of oil.

The shrimp boats that daily pass beneath its gaze no longer must rely on sail and dead reckoning for safety. Today these 600 - odd shrimp boats are equipped with diesel engines and radar, and their holds are filled with sea food destined for quick - freezing and air-freighting all over the county.

• • •

THE MOUNT LOCUST tavern and inn, built in 1780, still stands on the Natchez Trace and holds within its walls the ghosts of pioneers heading West.

Yet this historic tavern also commands a view of oil derricks and surging pumps drawing liquid gold from beneath the Mississippi scenery.

Within its borders, Mississippi counts 2,400 producing oil wells that last year turned out 40 million barrels of oil for industry, making Mississippi the ninth oil producing state in the nation.

In 1910, E. F. Waits, an ingenious inventor in Corinth, Miss., built and flew the first airplane built south of the Ohio River. It's no wonder, then, that the Vickers division of Sperry - Rand chose Mississippi as the site for its new, $7,500,000 hydraulic aircraft pump plant. Constructed last year the plant will employ over 1,000 trained technicians.

A state noted for its wealth of timberland, Mississippi tree farmers until 20 years ago were satisfied with a yield of $40 per acre. Today they have increased the yield to $150 per acre, at the same time extending the number of wooded Mississippi acres to over two million.

• • •

BECAUSE of this expansion the Mississippi Pump & Paper Corp recently started laying plans for a $30 million paper plant on the Tombigbee River.

Modern Mississippi is today well on the way to industrial independence, but unlike many other states it hasn't lost its inherited traditions in the process. While the shrimp fleet is now mechanized, it is still blessed every year by the parish priest of Biloxi's St. Michael's Church to protect it from storms and misadventure.

Beauvoir, home of Jefferson Davis for the last 12 years of his life, still stands as a monument to the stately, magnificence of Mississippi's ante-bellum days.

Yet today the skies above Beauvoir are split by supersonic jet planes from Keesler AFB, symbols of the new spirit of industrial progress and prosperity that is sweeping from the Delta to the Gulf Coast.

Church Study Guide

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Presbyterian church in the USA. has issued a study guide to be circulated among church people called "The Church and the Public Schools" — a document aimed at refuting charges that the public schools are godless.

Kin of Moliere Sought For Opening of Play

NEW YORK (AP) — A direct descendant of Louis XIV's playwright Molier is being sought. The reward: A trip from France to a Broadway opening.

Reason for the search is that the producers of the upcoming musical "The Carefree Heart" thought it would be nice to have one of the old master's heirs on hand to view the entertainment which is based upon Moliere's "A Doctor In Spite of Himself."

Automatic Alarm

Getting Bad Breaks

NICHOLASVILLE, Ky. (AP)—John Von Grunigen has been getting the breaks but doesn't like it.

Here Are More News Briefs From Midwest Grid Camps

CHICAGO (AP)—Midwest Football Briefs:

Ohio State—Coach Woody Hayes put the Bucks through a gruelling workout and personally supervised the offensive drills. Hayes also had the team work on pass defense saying he expects Illinois to make use of its passing

Iowa — The flu situation eased up in the Hawkeye camp and the team went through its first scrimmage in a week. For the first time in 10 days no new flu cases were reported.

Minnesota—The Gophers drilled with optimism for the Northwestern game despite a long list of injuries. On the injured list are halfbacks Bob Schultz and Dave Lindblom and end Perry Gehring.

Michigan State — The Spartans haven't allowed a touchdown this season but nevertheless worked on defense for the Big Ten opener against Michigan.

Michigan — The Wolverines showed more spirit and precision than in any other workout this season. Bennie Oosterbaan juggled his first two lines during a long defensive workout.

Wisconsin—Linemen worked on fundamentals before the Badgers went through a long scrimmage which ended under lights and a light rain. Wisconsin reported no injuries and is ready for Purdue.

Illinois — Quarterback Chuck Schrader worked in the fullback slot for the Illini. Schrader could be used behind Ray Nitschke in case injured Jack Delveaux is not ready for the Ohio State game.

Northwestern — Sophomore Ron Burton will start against Minnesota in place of star halfback Bobby McKeiver. Burton earned the chance off his showing last Saturday plus the fact that McKeiver has bruised ribs.

Marquette—Halfback Lou Casto will miss the Holy Cross game because of a dislocated thumb. He'll be replaced by Bill Burney who was out of action last week because of a bad knee.

Utah, Duke Stars Hold Leadership

NEW YORK (AP)—Bob Winters of Utah State, the total offense leader, and high scorer Wray Carlton of Duke were the only major college football individual leaders holding over from a week ago, the NCAA service bureau reports.

Winters, who is leading in forward passing with 492 yards in three games, is tops in total offense with 515 yards. Bob Stransky of Colorado, second in total offense with 436 yards, leads in rushing with 369 yards. Arizona State's Leon Burton is the rushing runnerup with 365 yards. Carlton scored eight points as Duke defeated Maryland 14-0, running his total to 40, 10 more than for Jerry Mertens of Drake and Idaho's Howard Willis.

The first labor union in Ohio, Franklin Typographical Society, was organized at Cincinnati in 1826.

Easiest of all flat wall paints to apply. Almost effortless painting action! New Super Velveton with Poly-Vin* makes decorating far more fun, easier than ever! And it's easy to clean brush or roller, too. Simply rinse with water.

Dries in 20 minutes. Paint in the morning, enjoy a colorful new room the same afternoon. Easy to touch up areas which are accidentally missed or marked. No worry about laps or streaks.

Economical, one-coat coverage. No primer needed. One gallon of Dean & Barry Super Velveton covers up to 500 sq. ft. —more than enough to do the average room. Use it over color-fast wallpaper, wallboard, plaster, interior masonry—most any surface.

CHICAGO (AP)—Midwest Football Briefs:

Ohio State—Coach Woody Hayes put the Bucks through a gruelling workout and personally supervised the offensive drills. Hayes also had the team work on pass defense saying he expects Illinois to make use of its passing

Iowa — The flu situation eased up in the Hawkeye camp and the team went through its first scrimmage in a week. For the first time in 10 days no new flu cases were reported.

Minnesota—The Gophers drilled with optimism for the Northwestern game despite a long list of injuries. On the injured list are halfbacks Bob Schultz and Dave Lindblom and end Perry Gehring.

Michigan State — The Spartans haven't allowed a touchdown this season but nevertheless worked on defense for the Big Ten opener against Michigan.

Michigan — The Wolverines showed more spirit and precision than in any other workout this season. Bennie Oosterbaan juggled his first two lines during a long defensive workout.

Wisconsin—Linemen worked on fundamentals before the Badgers went through a long scrimmage which ended under lights and a light rain. Wisconsin reported no injuries and is ready for Purdue.

Purdue—Coach Jack Mollenkopf indicated the Boilermakers will use the platoon substitution technique against Wisconsin. It proved effective in the four-point loss to Minnesota.

Indiana — Third-string tailback Tom Kendrick sparkled in Indiana's drills and might move higher because of his triple threat abilities. The Hoosiers drilled long and hard on punting.

Illinois — Quarterback Chuck Schrader worked in the fullback slot for the Illini. Schrader could be used behind Ray Nitschke in case injured Jack Delveaux is not ready for the Ohio State game.

Northwestern — Sophomore Ron Burton will start against Minnesota in place of star halfback Bobby McKeiver. Burton earned the chance off his showing last Saturday plus the fact that McKeiver has bruised ribs.

Marquette—Halfback Lou Casto will miss the Holy Cross game because of a dislocated thumb. He'll be replaced by Bill Burney who was out of action last week because of a bad knee.

Utah, Duke Stars Hold Leadership

NEW YORK (AP)—Bob Winters of Utah State, the total offense leader, and high scorer Wray Carlton of Duke were the only major college football individual leaders holding over from a week ago, the NCAA service bureau reports.

Winters, who is leading in forward passing with 492 yards in three games, is tops in total offense with 515 yards. Bob Stransky of Colorado, second in total offense with 436 yards, leads in rushing with 369 yards. Arizona State's Leon Burton is the rushing runnerup with 365 yards. Carlton scored eight points as Duke defeated Maryland 14-0, running his total to 40, 10 more than for Jerry Mertens of Drake and Idaho's Howard Willis.

The first labor union in Ohio, Franklin Typographical Society, was organized at Cincinnati in 1826.

Bucks Picked To Defeat Illini, 14-6

Army To Edge Irish, Michigan To Lose, Midwest Expert Says

By JERRY LISKA
Midwest AP Sports Editor

After two warmup rounds, our average is .842 and 16-3 and a perfect day at bat last Saturday. But now the pitching gets swifter. Here's the way we swing:

Michigan State 13, Michigan 7—A humdinger of a Big Ten showdown which a capacity 101,000 will watch at Michigan Stadium. We'll use the statistical slide rule on this one. Michigan has averaged a net of 3.8 yards per play in defeating Southern California 16-6 and Georgia 26-0. But the Trojans and Yellowjackets combined for exactly the same 3.8 per play yardage against the Wolverines. On the other hand, Michigan State averaged 5.9 per play in spanking Indiana 54-0 and California 19-0, while yielding only 3.1 per play. Besides that, Spartan depth will win out.

Purdue 20, Wisconsin 13—The difference here is the kind of company both teams have been keeping. The sophomore-studded Badgers free-wheeled against Marquette and West Virginia without a test of their defense. The Boilermakers hammered rivets real good in losing efforts against Notre Dame and Minnesota. Minnesota still is wondering how it beat Purdue, 21-17, after being outgained 378 yards to 185 and 24 first downs to 6.

Army 14, Notre Dame 13—This Irish team is carrying a shillelagh, but may be weakened by a flu epidemic. Army looked good in defeating Nebraska and Penn State. In full health, the Irish might show some capers they didn't display in defeating Purdue and Indiana.

Minnesota 19, Northwestern 13—The Gophers learned against Purdue that performance must come before reputation. Northwestern will be starting six sophomores and lacks depth to cope with the bulky and well-manned Gophers. Minnesota will be remembering last year's scoreless tie with the surprising Wildcats which kept them from the Rose Bowl.

Ohio State 14, Illinois 6—The Buckeyes broke into the victory column with a 35-7 triumph over Washington. But this may not mean too much. Minnesota clubbed Washington, 46-7, but walked into a buzzsaw before edging Purdue, 21-17. Illinois still is a Big Ten enigma after losing to UCLA 16-6 and trouncing Colgate 40-0. If Tom Haller has really taken hold at quarterback, the Illini may be tough.

Iowa 28, Indiana 6—The defending champion Hawkeyes launch their Big Ten title defense against the league's softest touch. Iowa had to go all stops out to defeat Washington State, 20-13. Even if flu persists, the Hawkeyes should brush aside a foe which has been outscored, 80-0, in two games.

Holy Cross 14, Marquette 7—The Warriors are trying. The Crusaders are getting closer to Marquette's size.

Suitcase Simpson Remains Forlorn

NEW YORK (AP)—Probably the most forlorn figure on the New York Yankees as they went into the seventh and final World Series game with the Milwaukee Braves today was first baseman Harry (Suitcase) Simpson who has gone 1 for 12 in the series.

"I'm just over-anxious," Simpson explained. "I've been trying too hard, I guess. I've heard some of the booing and I sort of expected it. Billy Martin was a big favorite in this town and when I came here as part of his trade to Kansas City, some of the fans probably resented me. I'll just keep swinging if I get another chance."

In 1877 Cincinnati, became the first city in Ohio to organize telephones into a single system with all previously private lines running into a central office, called the exchange.

2 Pony Football Games Set for Saturday Night

The ponies will be off and running again at Gardner Park Saturday night. . .pony football teams, that is.

Given good weather, there will be two games. The first, between the Splinters and the Marksmen, will start at 6:30 p. m. The second, between the Feeders and Big Boys, is slated to get under way about an hour later.

Since the four periods last only 6 minutes each, just half as long as those of the high school games, officials of the Pony League calculate an hour is ample time to play the first game and have time left for the pre - game warm - up for the second.

The weather is a more important factor in pony football, as it is played here, than it is in high school, college or professional football. Because the ponies are boys of the fifth and sixth grades, the rules were drafted to make it possible to postpone games because of rain or unusual cold. This is just a part of the precaution to protect the health of the youngsters.

* * *

THE SPLINTERS will go into Saturday night's game with the Marksmen with a record of a 7 - 7 tie with the Big Boys and a 21-13 defeat at the hands of the Feeders.

The Marksmen have played only one game and that one ended in a 7 - 7 tie with the Mixers, who had won their opener.

The Feeders, who meet the Big boys in the second game Saturday night, were blanked 14 - 0 by the Mixers in their first game but came back to edge the Splinters, 21-13, last Saturday night.

This will be the second game for the Big Boys, who tied the Splinters, 7 - 7, in their opener.

The Mixers, fifth team in the loop, are not scheduled for a game; so, their job will be to clean up the park after the two games Saturday night.

The crowds that have turned out for the first two of the five doubleheaders scheduled have nearly filled the stadium. Members of the Boosters Club, which sponsored the pony football program here, say the turnouts have been bigger than they expected.

Boosters Hear Scouts' Report On Hillsboro

Boosters were told at Wednesday night's meeting that Hillsboro's Indians, who will invade the WHS Lions' den for an SCO League football game Friday night, are not quite so heavy as Greenfield's Tigers, who blanked the Lions 14-0 last Friday, but are a little taller.

The appraisal of the Indians was a part of the report made by the WHS scouts at the Booster Club meeting in the Gardner Park field house.

The report also said the Indians have an "average" passing attack, with the receiver usually the right halfback, and that they run from a T formation.

The outlook for the Hillsboro game— which did not include any predictions by the WHS coaches—was given following a review of the Greenfield game by Coach Fred Domenico and Assistant Coach Marvin Merritt. Motion pictures of the game were shown.

H. S. (Bud) Stemple made a generalized report to the Boosters on the status of the pony football program, which the club sponsored. Without going into detail, Stemple told the Boosters the pony program is "about $200 in the red." He pointed out that, while there is around $500 in the treasury, outstanding bills, including $300 borrowed from the Boosters Club, amount to much more than that.

2 Oklahoma Stars To Pester Browns

They are Tommy McDonald, Oklahoma's All - America halfback, and Jimmy Harris, a quarterback converted to safety man.

Fan from Wednesday First in Line Today

NEW YORK (AP) — Although the bleachers were only half-filled at Wednesday's game, several persons were in line early this morning waiting for the gates to open for the seventh and deciding game of the World Series.

Buckeyes Reminded Of Illini Grid Power

COLUMBUS (AP) — Ohio State's Buckeyes have been given a reminder that the University of Illinois can be a football powerhouse.

Coach Woody Hayes Wednesday had his boys sit through a motion picture replay of the 1953 OSU-Illini game. Illinois, sparked by J. C. Caroline, that year smothered the Bucks 41-20.

Ohio State meets the Illini in OSU's Big Ten opener Saturday.

Lions Look Good In Rugged Drill

Secnd SCO Game With Indians Friday

Light-hearted banter, mixed with exuberant yelling, that reverberated through the field house after Wednesday evening's workout by the Lion gridders was the concrete evidence that "the boys knew they had a good practice," Coach Domenico explained.

"We can always tell by their attitude in the dressing room how things went at practice," he said and added: "They (the Lions) know when things have been clicking and all that yelling is their way of blowing off steam and expressing their satisfaction with getting the job done."

Domenico admitted he was happy, too, but hesitated to say so, "because I did last week and look what happened. . .they lost to Greenfield."

Wednesday evening's workout started with the offense and continued for more than hour "to iron out some of the wrinkles and correct some of the mistakes made in the Greenfield game." It even went 10 minutes over the scheduled time "to smooth out one particular play," Domenico said.

After that, the reserve squad was brought across the practice field and set up against the varsity for a rugged head-bumping scrimmage.

* * *

THE RESERVES, running the Hillsboro plays, smashed into the varsity defense time and again with little success. That, coupled with a better coordinated offense, was what made the boys so happy in the showers.

Domenico said there had been some shuffling of personnel, but that no permanent changes were made. He explained that this gave the coaches some good ideas about replacements and "let the boys know there is always someone capable of taking their places if they don't measure up."

Doug Rider, Domenico said, probably will start at center in place of Dick Welsh, who has missed a good many practices because of an ankle injury and has not yet regained his timing.

Gil Crouse, who has shown potential at fullback, probably will start at end because Gary Stoddard and Hank Anders have proven themselves at fullback. Jack Wilson also is ready to hold down one of the flank positions.

With Jack Gillen coming along as a tackle, Jack Crabtree, who has become the "jack of all trades," is ready for either guard or tackle, Domenico said. The coach wias highly complimentary of Crabtree, not only for his ability but also for his willingness to fill in at any position in the middle of the line when called on.

Friday night's game with Hillsboro's Indians will be the second in the SCO League for the Lions. They lost their first one at Greenfield last Friday.

This also will be parents night, the night when the parents will come onto the field with their Lion sons and take special seats on the field just east of the players bench.

Yankee Players All Smiles After Wednesday's Contest

NEW YORK (AP) — There were broad smiles on all faces in the New York dressing room after the Yankees squared the World Series at 3-all, but the happiest guy of them all was Bullet Bob Turley, who pitched and won his first victory in the autumn classic.

Turley, a 27-year-old native of Troy, Ill., had just limited the Milwaukee Braves to four hits and won a tight 3-2 verdict. Although two of them were homers by Frank Torre and Hank Aaron, the 6-foot-2, 217-pounder was all smiles as he accepted congratulations.

"He certainly pitched hard," said Manager Casey Stengel. "All they did was hit two balls on him that couldn't be caught."

"I wasn't throwing any bullets in the last two or three innings yesterday," said Turley.

He said he was "using a sinker mostly with some curves thrown in" during the late innings. After he walked Ed Mathews to open the Braves' half of the ninth, he said, he breezed a third strike past Aaron with a sidearm sinker. Both homers off him came on fast balls.

Fred Haney, the Milwaukee pilot, still remained confident.

"There wasn't much we could have done about today's game," he said. "Those home runs (by Yogi Berra with one on, and Hank Bauer) licked us. I don't know of a thing I would have done differently."

Haney had a word of praise for Turley, who was beaten by Clem Labine and Brooklyn a year ago 1-0 in 10 innings, and was knocked out in the second inning of the third game at Milwaukee last Saturday.

"He pitched a whale of a game against us—just as he did the other day. But our Johnson (Ernie) was pretty good out there too. I think he was great."

Actually the difference was that Bob Buhl, the Milwaukee starter, walked a man ahead of Berra's homer, while the two Milwaukee four-baggers came with the sacks empty.

Brenner Says Flu To Hurt Irish '11'

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Coach Terry Brennan says his flu-ridden Notre Dame football team is in poor physical shape for Saturday's game with tough Army in Philadelphia.

Six of his regulars and two second-stringers were sidelined by the flu bug Wednesday.

"We are hurt, hurt badly," Brennan said after the squad walked through no-contact drills.

"There is no likelihood that we will be in top shape for Army although all of the men who are down with the flu now probably will make the trip."

Baseball Said To Be Game Of Inches

That's what Hank Bauer said Wednesday when he learned the home run he hit for victory in the sixth World Series game was fair by exactly one inch.

"I knew it was curving," said the ex-Marine. "I was worried that it would curve foul. I didn't know what happened when I saw it bounce back on the field."

It was an hour after the game before Bauer really learned what happened. Jim Thompson, Yankee Stadium superintendent, explained after inspecting the screen on the left field foul line.

The screen was erected in July to help the umpires on that difficult foul line call. It extends 36 inches from the foul pole into fair territory and runs about 45 feet into the air. When the ball hits the screen, the umpire knows it is a fair ball.

"The screen is attached to two cables," said Thompson. "One cable is an inch away from the foul pole. The other is 36 inches out. Bauer's ball hit the cable near the pole."

The homer kept the Yanks alive in the series and assured Bauer of a place in the record books. It stretched Bauer's consecutive game hitting streak to 13, tying a series record held jointly by Frank Schulte of the 1906-10 Chicago Cubs and Harry Hooper of the 1915-18 Boston Red Sox.

Berra Says 53rd Game Tough as 1st

NEW YORK (AP)—To Yogi Berra, playing in his 53rd World Series game is no different than playing in his first.

"You never get hardened to stuff like this," the New York Yankees' gnome-like catcher said today. "It's still the World Series. You still get excited and get butterflies in your stomach. You know a lot hangs on every play.

"When I broke in I was popeyed with fright and threw the ball all over the place. Now I am a little more sure of myself. But otherwise every game is the same."

Lawrence Peter Berra, born in St. Louis 32 years ago, set a record for playing in the most World Series game Wednesday at Yankee Stadium when he reported for No. 53. He went ahead of such series regulars as Babe Ruth, Joe DiMaggio and Phil Rizzuto, who had played in 52.

It was only justice that Yogi's 53rd series game should be one of his best—a home run, double and single—and expert signal-calling for the winning pitcher, Bob Turley, who beat Milwaukee 3-2.

Whitey Ford Wanted To Start Today's Tilt

YANKEE STADIUM (AP)—Whitey Ford, who would have started today's game for the Yanks had he not warmed up for two innings Wednesday, appeared slightly disappointed that Don Larsen was getting the assignment.

"I'm ready," he said.

"Why not Larsen?" challenged Yank manager Casey Stengel. "He has had four days rest and he pitched a no-hitter last year. Maybe he'll repeat."

Army To Edge Irish, Michigan To Lose, Midwest Expert Says

By JERRY LISKA
Midwest AP Sports Editor

After two warmup rounds, our average is .842 and 16-3 and a perfect day at bat last Saturday. But now the pitching gets swifter. Here's the way we swing:

Michigan State 13, Michigan 7—A humdinger of a Big Ten showdown which a capacity 101,000 will watch at Michigan Stadium. We'll use the statistical slide rule on this one. Michigan has averaged a net of 3.8 yards per play in defeating Southern California 16-6 and Georgia 26-6. But the Trojans and Yellowjackets combined for exactly the same 3.8 per play yardage against the Wolverines. On the other hand, Michigan State averaged 5.9 per play in spanking Indiana 54-0 and California 19-0, while yielding only 3.1 per play. Besides that, Spartan depth will win out.

Purdue 20, Wisconsin 13—The difference here is the kind of company both teams have been keeping. The sophomore-studded Badgers free-wheeled against Marquette and West Virginia without a test of their defense. The Boilermakers hammered rivets real good in losing efforts against Notre Dame and Minnesota. Minnesota still is wondering how it beat Purdue, 21-17, after being outgained 378 yards to 185 and 24 first downs to 6.

Army 14, Notre Dame 13—This Irish team is carrying a shillelagh, but may be weakened by a flu epidemic. Army looked good in defeating Nebraska and Penn State. In full health, the Irish might show some capers they didn't display in defeating Purdue and Indiana.

Minnesota 19, Northwestern 13—The Gophers learned against Purdue that performance must come before reputation. Northwestern will be starting six sophomores and lacks depth to cope with the bulky and well-manned Gophers. Minnesota will be remembering last year's scoreless tie with the surprising Wildcats which kept them from the Rose Bowl.

Ohio State 14, Illinois 6—The Buckeyes broke into the victory column with a 35-7 triumph over Washington. But this may not mean too much. Minnesota clubbed Washington, 46-7, but walked into a buzzsaw before edging Purdue, 21-17. Illinois still is a Big Ten enigma after losing to UCLA 16-6 and trouncing Colgate 40-0. If Tom Haller has really taken hold at quarterback, the Illini may be tough.

Iowa 28, Indiana 6—The defending champion Hawkeyes launch their Big Ten title defense against the league's softest touch. Iowa had to go all stops out to defeat Washington State, 20-13. Even if flu persists, the Hawkeyes should brush aside a foe which has been outscored, 80-0, in two games.

Holy Cross 14, Marquette 7—The Warriors are trying. The Crusaders are getting closer to Marquette's size.

Suitcase Simpson Remains Forlorn

NEW YORK (AP)—Probably the most forlorn figure on the New York Yankees as they went into the seventh and final World Series game with the Milwaukee Braves today was first baseman Harry (Suitcase) Simpson who has gone 1 for 12 in the series.

"I'm just over-anxious," Simpson explained. "I've been trying too hard, I guess. I've heard some of the booing and I sort of expected it. Billy Martin was a big favorite in this town and when I came here as part of his trade to Kansas City, some of the fans probably resented me. I'll just keep swinging if I get another chance."

In 1877 Cincinnati, became the first city in Ohio to organize telephones into a single system with all previously private lines running into a central office, called the exchange.

2 Pony Football Games Set for Saturday Night

The ponies will be off and running again at Gardner Park Saturday night. . .pony football teams, that is.

Given good weather, there will be two games. The first, between the Splinters and the Marksmen, will start at 6:30 p. m. The second, between the Feeders and Big Boys, is slated to get under way about an hour later.

Since the four periods last only 6 minutes each, just half as long as those of the high school games, officials of the Pony League calculate an hour is ample time to play the first game and have time left for the pre - game warm - up for the second.

The weather is a more important factor in pony football, as it is played here, than it is in high school, college or professional football. Because the ponies are boys of the fifth and sixth grades, the rules were drafted to make it possible to postpone games because of rain or unusual cold. This is just a part of the precaution to protect the health of the youngsters.

• • •

THE SPLINTERS will go into Saturday night's game with the Marksmen with a record of a 7 - 7 tie with the Big Boys and a 21-13 defeat at the hands of the Feeders.

The Marksmen have played only one game and that one ended in a 7 - 7 tie with the Mixers, who had won their opener.

The Feeders, who meet the Big boys in the second game Saturday night, were blanked 14 - 0 by the Mixers in their first game but came back to edge the Splinters, 21-13, last Saturday night.

This will be the second game for the Big Boys, who tied the Splinters, 7 - 7, in their opener.

The Mixers, fifth team in the loop, are not scheduled for a game; so, their job will be to clean up the park after the two games Saturday night.

The crowds that have turned out for the first two of the five doubleheaders scheduled have nearly filled the stadium. Members of the Boosters Club, which sponsored the pony football program here, say the turnouts have been bigger than they expected.

Boosters Hear Scouts' Report On Hillsboro

Boosters were told at Wednesday night's meeting that Hillsboro's Indians, who will invade the WHS Lions' den for an SCO League football game Friday night, are not quite so heavy as Greenfield's Tigers, who blanked the Lions 14-0 last Friday, but are a little taller.

The appraisal of the Indians was a part of the report made by the WHS scouts at the Booster Club meeting in the Gardner Park field house.

The report also said the Indians have an "average" passing attack, with the receiver usually the right halfback, and that they run from a T formation.

The outlook for the Hillsboro game— which did not include any predictions by the WHS coaches—was given following a review of the Greenfield game by Coach Fred Domenico and Assistant Coach Marvin Merritt. Motion pictures of the game were shown.

H. S. (Bud) Stemple made a generalized report to the Boosters on the status of the pony football program, which the club sponsored. Without going into detail, Stemple told the Boosters the pony program is "about $200 in the red." He pointed out that, while there is around $500 in the treasury, outstanding bills, including $300 borrowed from the Boosters Club, amount to much more than that.

2 Oklahoma Stars To Pester Browns

They are Tommy McDonald, Oklahoma's All - America halfback, and Jimmy Harris, a quarterback converted to safety man.

Fan from Wednesday First in Line Today

NEW YORK (AP) — Although the bleachers were only half-filled at Wednesday's game, several persons were in line early this morning waiting for the gates to open for the seventh and deciding game of the World Series.

Buckeyes Reminded Of Illini Grid Power

COLUMBUS (AP) — Ohio State's Buckeyes have been given a reminder that the University of Illinois can be a football powerhouse.

Coach Woody Hayes Wednesday had his boys sit through a motion picture replay of the 1953 OSU-Illini game. Illinois, sparked by J. C. Caroline, that year smothered the Bucks 41-20.

Ohio State meets the Illini in OSU's Big Ten opener Saturday.

Lions Look Good In Rugged Drill

Secnd SCO Game With Indians Friday

Light-hearted banter, mixed with exuberant yelling, that reverberated through the field house after Wednesday evening's workout by the Lion gridders was the concrete evidence that "the boys knew they had a good practice," Coach Domenico explained.

"We car always tell by their attitude in the dressing room how things went at practice," he said and added: "They (the Lions) know when things have been clicking and all that yelling is their way of blowing off steam and expressing their satisfaction with getting the job done."

Domenico admitted he was happy, too, but hesitated to say so, "because I did last week and look what happened. . .they lost to Greenfield."

Wednesday evening's workout started with the offense and continued for more than hour "to iron out some of the wrinkles and correct some of the mistakes made in the Greenfield game." It even went 10 minutes over the scheduled time "to smooth out one particular play," Domenico said.

After that, the reserve squad was brought across the practice field and set up against the varsity for a rugged head-bumping scrimmage.

• • •

THE RESERVES, running the Hillsboro plays, smashed into the varsity defense time and again with little success. That, coupled with a better coordinated offense, was what made the boys so happy in the showers.

Domenico said there had been some shuffling of personnel, but that no permanent changes were made. He explained that this gave the coaches some good ideas about replacements and "let the boys know there is always someone capable of taking their places if they don't measure up."

Doug Rider, Domenico said, probably will start at center in place of Dick Welsh, who has missed a good many practices because of an ankle injury and has not yet regained his timing.

Gil Crouse, who has shown potential at fullback, probably will start at end because Gary Stoddard and Hank Anders have proven themselves at fullback. Jack Wilson also is ready to hold down one of the flank positions.

With Jack Gillen coming along as a tackle, Jack Crabtree, who has become the "jack of all trades," is ready for either guard or tackle, Domenico said. The coach was highly complimentary of Crabtree, not only for his ability but also for his willingness to fill in at any position in the middle of the line when called on.

Meat, Poultry Featured in Food Markets

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The thrift-conscious housewife will find several attractively priced meats to choose from at her favorite supermarket this week.

Tagged by leading food chains as specials for the coming weekend are chuck roast, leg of veal, fresh or smoked picnic hams, roasting turkeys and chickens for frying or broiling.

Sirloin steak is being offered at sharply reduced prices here and there. Market specialists say the sirloin bargains are a one-time promotional event and that next week prices will be back where they were before. The same holds for bacon and pork. The general trend for pork is higher.

Egg prices are up this week. Hens are moulting and p oductivity is off. In most of the larger cities you'll find the retail price of large, grade A whites up 6, 8 or even 10 cents a dozen since last week. Brown and medium-sized eggs are higher, too.

Offsetting the higher cost of breakfast eggs are bargains galore in produce. The fall harvest of values is in full swing right now — there are russet potatoes and yellow sweet corn from the Pacific Northwest, yams from Virginia and the Carolinas lettuce and greens from California.

Outstanding buys of the week include potatoes, peppers, cauliflower, bunched or topped beets and white turnips.

Toadstool Poisoning Fatal to Youngster

COLUMBUS (AP)—Betty Whittington, 1½-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Whittington of Columbus, died Wednesday from toadstool poisoning. Six others who ate toadstools, in the belief they were edible mushrooms, were hospitalized. Three are reported in criticial condition.

Hillsboro Woman, 68, Killed by Autoist, 71

HILLSBORO (AP)—Mrs. Elva Mae Wash, 68, was crossing the road to a mailbox near her home here Wednesday when she was struck and killed by a car.

Police quoted Parnell Brown, 71, of Hillsboro, the driver, saying he was unable to stop in time.

Meat, Poultry Featured in Food Markets

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The thrift-conscious housewife will find several attractively priced meats to choose from at her favorite supermarket this week.

Tagged by leading food chains as specials for the coming weekend are chuck roast, leg of veal, fresh or smoked picnic hams, roasting turkeys and chickens for frying or broiling.

Sirloin steak is being offered at sharply reduced prices here and there. Market specialists say the sirloin bargains are a one-time promotional event and that next week prices will be back where they were before. The same holds for bacon and pork. The general trend for pork is higher.

Egg prices are up this week. Hens are moulting and p oductivity is off. In most of the larger cities you'll find the retail price of large, grade A whites up 6, 8 or even 10 cents a dozen since last week. Brown and medium-sized eggs are higher, too.

Offsetting the higher cost of breakfast eggs are bargains galore in produce. The fall harvest of values is in full swing right now — there are russet potatoes and yellow sweet corn from the Pacific Northwest, yams from Virginia and the Carolinas lettuce and greens from California.

Outstanding buys of the week include potatoes, peppers, cauliflower, bunched or topped beets and white turnips.

Toadstool Poisoning Fatal to Youngster

COLUMBUS (AP)—Betty Whittington, 1¼-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Whittington of Columbus, died Wednesday from toadstool poisoning. Six others who ate toadstools, in the belief they were edible mushrooms, were hospitalized. Three are reported in criticial condition.

Hillsboro Woman, 68, Killed by Autoist, 71

HILLSBORO (AP)—Mrs. Elva Mae Wash, 68, was crossing the road to a mailbox near her home here Wednesday when she was struck and killed by a car.

Police quoted Parnell Brown, 71, of Hillsboro, the driver, saying he was unable to stop in time.

Brothers' Records Bring Different Terms for Theft

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Two brothers who pleaded guilty to robbing a five and dime store of $237 here June 5 came up for sentencing before two different judges Wednesday.

One must go to jail, the other is free on probation.

Clifford was sentenced to 1-15 years in the Ohio Penitentiary by Common Pleas Judge Earl D. Parker. Charles was freed on two years probation by Common Pleas Judge Robert Draper.

The two have previous convictions for auto theft. Judge Parker said he took Clifford's record into consideration in sentencing him to the penitentiary.

Judge Draper said he similarly considered Charles' record but noted that Charles had an excellent parole record since his release in 1948.

The Probation Department recommended that both men be sent to prison.

New, Continuing Idle Claims Climb

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation reports increases in both new and continuing claims for the week ended Oct. 5.

New claims in the period increased from 10,727 to 11,072. Continuing claims of those unemployed one week or more rose from 50,901 to 51,636. These figures are estimated, and do not necessarily indicate the total unemployed in the state since many unemployed may have drawn the limit on benefits and may still be out of work.

Brothers' Records Bring Different Terms for Theft

COLUMBUS (AP) — Two brothers who pleaded guilty to robbing a five and dime store of $237 here June 8 came up for sentencing before two different judges Wednesday.

One must go to jail, the other is free on probation.

Clifford was sentenced to 1-15 years in the Ohio Penitentiary by Common Pleas Judge Earl D. Parker. Charles was freed on two years probation by Common Pleas Judge Robert Draper.

The two have previous convictions for auto theft. Judge Parker said he took Clifford's record into consideration in sentencing him to the penitentiary.

Judge Draper said he similarly considered Charles' record but noted that Charles had an excellent parole record since his release in 1948.

The Probation Department recommended that both men be sent to prison.

New, Continuing Idle Claims Climb

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation reports increases in both new and continuing claims for the week ended Oct. 5.

New claims in the period increased from 10,727 to 11,072. Continuing claims of those unemployed one week or more rose from 50,901 to 51,636. These figures are estimated, and do not necessarily indicate the total unemployed in the state since many unemployed may have drawn the limit on benefits and may still be out of work.

65 Associate Members Voted into Police Lodge

Washington C. H. Lodge No. 99 of the Fraternal Order of Police Wednesday night voted to accept 65 applications for associate membership from businessmen, civic leaders and others throughout Fayette County.

The 65 accepted were drawn from a total of 67 received. Original goal of the newly-formed lodge in its associate member campaign was 50.

"Naturally, we're very happy that we got so many applications—and that so many were good," Police Patrolman Herschel Taylor, the president, commented Thursday.

"Because of this response, we're setting a final goal of 100 associate members," he said, adding, "at the beginning, I didn't think we'd be able to look forward to that many for several weeks yet. But we're running ahead of expectations, so there's no reason to stop now."

* * *

THE LODGE, meeting at the Mar-Hi Restaurant, 118 N. Fayette St., also voted to rent the second floor room at 142½ E. Court St. for a permanent lodge hall. The room was formerly occupied by the Hill & Hill law offices.

The lodge hall should be available to police in time for initiation of associate members scheduled to take place at the next meeting Oct. 23.

Members also discussed the possibility of acquiring a location for a pistol-rifle range, on which to give target practice instruction to young people of the community. Members mentioned the eventual possibility of running pistol and rifle shooting matches for young people on such a range.

Various other ideas for lodge activities in youth work were mentioned.

* * *

APPOINTED to a committee to search for a possible location of a target range were Sheriff Orland Hays, State Highway Patrolman Robert Hackemeyer and Police Capt. Charles Foster.

A building committee, named primarily to secure furniture for the new hall, includes Police Patrolman Robert Williams, Highway Patrolman Dwight Holloway, Deputy Sheriff Donald Thompson and Police Capt. Foster.

Named to a permanent social committee were Highway Patrolman R. R. Sheline, Deputy Thompson and Police Patrolman Rodman Scott.

Taylor commented after the meeting: "So far, we've been contacting potential associate members and inviting them to join. We have overlooked some and I'd be glad to hear from any of them."

80 Pct. Slash In Paralytic Polio Reported

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Welfare Folsom today reported a dramatic 80 per cent reduction in paralytic polio in this country over the last two years.

Folsom said the success of Salk polio vaccine provides the means for "a knockout blow" to the disease next year if the millions of Americans under 40 who still have not done so will get the full three recommended doses.

He reported that the number of paralytic polio cases this year up through Sept. 28 was 1,576, compared with 7,886 two years ago, before widespread use of the Salk vaccine, and 5,241 cases up to this time in 1956.

A check of records showed deaths from polio in the first seven months of this year were estimated at 130, compared with an estimated 220 for the similar 1956 span and an actual 257 in the corresponding 1955 period.

Through Sept. 28 there had been 4,851 non-paralytic cases this year, compared with 12,146 a year ago, 21,667 two years ago, and an average if 24,928 a year over the past five years.

Three Injured In Auto Crashes

Motorcyclist Hurt Most Seriously

Three injuries — one of them serious — were reported in three auto accidents here Wednesday.

Being treated in Memorial Hospital for hand cuts and possible head injures is James Greenlee, 17, of Route 1, Greenfield, who was thrown from a motorcycle when it collided with a car about 7:15 p. m. Wednesday.

Treated in the hospital emergency room for cuts and bruises were Mrs. Patrick A. Hillis, 40, Newark, and Hubert Rumer, 21, of 613 Fourth St.

Greenlee was injured on Miami Trace Rd. a mile south - east of Good Hope when his motorcycle was involved in a head-on collision with an auto driven by Robert Wayne Polk, 17, of 416 E. Paint St.

Polk, who was headed away from Good Hope at the time, said he had started to cut across the road into a driveway and did not realize how close Greenlee was.

Greenlee was thrown over the roof of the car and into the ditch.

New Pentagon Boss Checking Defense Needs

WASHINGTON (AP)—Neil H. McElroy, the Pentagon's new boss, is going to take a long look at the current year's $38 billion military fund before deciding whether he thinks it is enough.

At a news conference held only four hours after he had been sworn in as Secretary of Defense, McElroy was asked if he was satisfied that $38 billion would buy the kind of military defense that the Joint Chiefs of Staff thought the U. S. ought to have.

The question was asked against the background of economy moves in the administration and critical reaction among some Congress members toward defense cutbacks. McElroy's answer was:

"Well, I'll say that is one of the big questions that I want to spend more time on and I don't know."

"I think the American people have got a right to an answer to that question, however, and I hope to be the guy that tries to help get it for them. If there's any one thing that seems to me to be prerequisite to anything else, certainly budget-making or anything else, is what is required to give this country an adequate defense."

A reporter asked if still more cutbacks in military manpower are certain.

McElroy replied that "I don't know that they are certain." But, he said, as future budget problems are explored "the question of the number of personnel will have to be one of the factors that will be considered."

ident in 1960, however, he replied that he would not make a "Gen. Sherman type statement to say 'If nominated I will not accept, if elected I will not serve.' "

At the dinner, Knowland turned his attention to labor. He said he had received "threats" of political "liquidation" for his views, but asserted he would not be intimidated. He did not elaborate.

KNOWLAND HAS said he will support a properly drawn up "right-to-work" law if he becomes California's governor.

In other labor matters, Knowland said secret ballot should decide the election or recall of union officers, and should be used before any strike is called. He said the rank and file of unions should be protected in the administration of their funds; that union fees and dues should not be diverted and that union members should have assurance that their national officers represent the members' views.

63 Slot Machines Sold For only $10 to G-Man

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Sixty-three confiscated slot machines worth an estimated $60,000 brought the government a tiny jackpot of $10 when they were auctioned in the basement of the Federal Building here by an Internal Revenue agent, who himself made the only bid as one of the few permitted to buy such merchandise. The machines will be smashed and sold for junk.

Formal Initiation For Y-Teens Nov. 3

BLOOMINGBURG — The Bloomingburg Y-Teens decided at their meeting in the school to hold a formal initiation Nov. 3. Forty members were present and heard discussion about the Community Chest drive and parade. The girls were told by the committee that their float for the parade was being completed.

Nine committees were appointed and asked to select their chairmen before the next meeting.

Devotions were given by Nancy Owens and the meeting was closed with song leader, Nancy Nessell.

Anti-Sputnik Idea Fails

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Councilman Louie Welch moved that the city prepare an ordinance making it illegal for Russian satellites to fly over Houston, but his effort died for lack of a second.

New Pentagon Boss Checking Defense Needs

WASHINGTON (AP)—Neil H. McElroy, the Pentagon's new boss, is going to take a long look at the current year's $38 billion military fund before deciding whether he thinks it is enough.

At a news conference held only four hours after he had been sworn in as Secretary of Defense, McElroy was asked if he was satisfied that $38 billion would buy the kind of military defense that the Joint Chiefs of Staff thought the U. S. ought to have.

The question was asked against the background of economy moves in the administration and critical reaction among some Congress members toward defense cutbacks. McElroy's answer was:

"I think the American people have got a right to an answer to that question, however, and I hope to be the guy that tries to help get it for them. If there's any one thing that seems to me to be prerequisite to anything else, certainly budget-making or anything else, is what is required to give this country an adequate defense."

A reporter asked if still more cutbacks in military manpower are certain.

McElroy replied that "I don't know that they are certain." But, he said, as future budget problems are explored "the question of the number of personnel will have to be one of the factors that will be considered."
